3-108 Prosecution for multiple offenses. When the same conduct of a defendant may establish the commission of more than one offense, the defendant may be prosecuted for each such offense. He/she may not, however, be convicted of more than one offense, if.

1. One offense is a lesser included offense of another offense where conviction was sought for both;
2. One offense consists only of a conspiracy, or any attempt to commit the other; or
3. Inconsistent findings of fact are required to establish the offenses; or
4. The offenses only differ in that one is defined to prohibit a specific kind of conduct and the other prohibits the same conduct generally; or
5. The offense is defined as a continuing course of conduct and the defendant's course of conduct was uninterrupted, unless the Code provides that specific periods of such conduct constitute separate offenses. [TCR 86-79]

3-109 Limitation. Except as provided in Section 3-105, a defendant shall not be subject to separate trials for multiple offenses based on the same conduct or arising from the same criminal episode, if such offenses are known to the prosecuting officer or to the state patrol, the Bureau of Indian Affairs police, or the Tribal police at the time of the commencement of the first trial and are within the jurisdiction of the Tribe. [TCR 86-79]

3-110 Separate trials. Upon application of any party and if justice so requires, the court may order that separate trials be held for two or more offenses based on the same conduct or arising from the same criminal episode. [TCR 86-79]

3-111 Lesser included offenses.

1. A defendant may be convicted of a lesser included offense different from the offense charged in a complaint without having been specifically charged with such included offense. An offense is so included when:
 - A. It is established by proof of the same or less than all the facts required to establish the commission of the offense charged; or
 - B. It consists of an attempt to commit the offense charged or to commit an offense otherwise included therein; or
 - C. It differs from the offenses charged only in the respect that a less serious injury or risk of injury to the same person, property or public interest or a lesser kind of culpability suffices to establish its commission.

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 1

2. The court must charge the jury with respect to a lesser included offense if so requested by the defendant if there is a rational basis for a verdict acquitting the defendant of the offense charged and convicting him/her of the lesser included offense. [TCR 86-79]

3-112 Double jeopardy.

1. If a defendant has been prosecuted for one or more offenses arising out of a single criminal episode or the same facts as the original prosecution, a subsequent prosecution for the same or a different offense arising out of such episode or facts is barred if:
 - A. The subsequent prosecution is for an offense that was or should have been tried in the former prosecution, unless such subsequent trial has been ordered as a separate trial by the judge; and
 - B. The former prosecution:
 - i. Resulted in acquittal; or
 - ii. Resulted in conviction; or
 - iii. Was improperly terminated; or
 - iv. Was terminated by a final order of judgment for the defendant that has not been reversed, set aside or vacated and that necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact that must be established to secure conviction in the subsequent prosecution.
2. There is an acquittal if the prosecution results in a finding of not guilty by the trier of fact or in a determination that there was insufficient evidence to warrant conviction. A finding of guilty of the lesser included offense is an acquittal of the greater offense even though the conviction for the lesser included offense is subsequently reversed, set aside, or vacated.
3. There is a conviction if the prosecution resulted in a judgment of guilty that has not been reversed, set aside, or vacated; a verdict that has not been reversed, set aside, or vacated and that is capable of supporting a judgment; or a plea of guilty accepted by the court.
4. There is an improper termination of prosecution if the termination takes place before the verdict, if for reasons not amounting to an acquittal, and takes place after a jury has been impaneled and sworn in, or, if the matter was to be tried without a jury, after the first witness is sworn. However, termination of prosecution is not improper if:
 - A. The defendant consents to the termination; or
 - B. The defendant waives his/her right to object to the termination; or
 - C. The court finds and states for the record that the termination is necessary because:
 - i. It is physically impossible to proceed with the trial in conformity to the law; or there is a legal defect in the proceeding not attributable to the prosecution that would make any judgment entered upon a verdict reversible as a matter of law; or
 - ii. Prejudicial conduct in or out of the courtroom not attributable to the prosecution makes it impossible to proceed with the trial without injustice to the defendant or to the prosecution; or
 - iii. The jury is unable to agree on the verdict; or
 - D. A false statement of a juror on voir dire prevents a fair trial.
5. A subsequent prosecution of an offense is not barred if the former prosecution resulted in a judgment of a guilt held invalid in a subsequent proceeding on appeal, or on writ of habeas corpus.
6. Prosecution for an offense under this Code is not barred by virtue of the fact that the defendant could be or has been charged or convicted under 18 U.S.C.A., section 1153 (Major Crimes Act) or other federal law. [TCR 86-79]

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 1

3-113 Burden and presumption of innocence.

1. A defendant in a criminal proceeding is presumed to be innocent until each and every element of the offense against him/her is proved beyond a reasonable doubt. In the absence of such proof the defendant shall be acquitted.
2. By "element of the offense" is meant:
 - A. The conduct, attendant circumstances or results of conduct included in the definition of the offense; plus
 - B. The culpable mental state required (if any); but
 - C. Jurisdiction is not an element of the offense nor is the statute of limitations or any other matter similarly unconnected with the harm or evil incident or conduct, sought to be prevented by the statute; these matters are established by a preponderance of the evidence. The existence of justification or excuse as defenses to the offense may also be established by a preponderance of the evidence. [TCR 86-79]

3-114 Negating defenses. The prosecution need not negate any defense either in the complaint or by proof unless the defense is in issue as a result of evidence presented at trial by either side, or unless the defense is an affirmative defense, and the defendant has presented evidence of such. [TCR 86-79]

3-115 Presumptions of fact. An evidentiary presumption established by this Code has the following consequences:

1. When the evidence of facts which support the presumption exist, the issue of the existence of the presumed fact must be submitted to the jury unless the court is satisfied that the evidence as a whole clearly negates the presumed fact.
2. In submitting the issue of the presumed fact to the jury, the court shall charge the jury that the presumed fact must on all evidence be proved beyond a reasonable doubt. And, that the law regards the facts that give rise to the presumed fact as evidence which, in effect, established the presumed fact at least by a preponderance of the evidence, but does not necessarily establish such fact beyond a reasonable doubt. [TCR 86-79]

3-201 Acts and omissions to act.

1. A person is not guilty of an offense unless his/her liability is based on conduct which includes a voluntary act or the omission to perform an act of which he/she is physically capable.
2. The following are not voluntary acts within the meaning of this Section:
 - A. A reflex or convulsion;
 - B. A bodily movement during unconsciousness or sleep;
 - C. Conduct during hypnosis;
 - D. A bodily movement that otherwise is not a product of the effort or determination of the actor, either conscious or habitual.
3. Liability for the commission of an offense may not be based on an omission unaccompanied by action unless:
 - A. The omission is expressly made sufficient by the law defining the offense; or
 - B. A duty to perform the omitted act is otherwise imposed by law.
4. Possession is an act, within the meaning of this Section, if the possessor knowingly procured or received the thing possessed or was aware of his/her control thereof for a sufficient period to have been able to determine hi/her possession. [TCR 86-79]

3-202 Culpability; general requirements. A person is not guilty of an offense unless he acted purposely, knowingly, or negligently, as the law may require, with respect to each element of the offense, or unless his/her acts constitute an offense involving strict liability.

1. Kinds of culpability defined are:
 - A. Purposely: a person acts purposely with respect to a element of an offense:
 - i. If the element involves the nature of his/her conduct or a result thereof, it is his/her conscious object to engage in conduct of that nature or to cause such a result; and
 - ii. If the element involves the attendant circumstances, he/she is aware of the existence of such circumstances, or he/she believes or hopes that they exist.

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 2

- B. Knowingly: a person acts knowingly with respect to an element of an offense when:
- i. If the element involves the nature of his/her conduct or the attendant circumstances, he/she is aware that his/her conduct is of that nature or that such circumstances exist; and
 - ii. If the element involves a result of conduct, he/she is aware that it is practically certain that his/her conduct will cause such a result.
- C. Recklessly: a person acts recklessly with respect to an element of an offense when he/she consciously disregards a substantial and unjustifiable risk that the element exists or will result from his/her conduct. The risk must be of such a nature and degree that, considering the nature and purpose of the actor's conduct and the circumstances known to him/her, its disregard involves a gross deviation from the standard of conduct that a law-abiding person would observe in the actor's situation.
- D. Negligently: A person acts negligently with respect to an element of an offense when he/she should be aware of a substantial and unjustifiable risk that the element exists or will result from his/her conduct. The risk must be of such a nature and degree that the actor's failure to perceive it, considering the nature and purpose of his/her conduct and the circumstances known, reflects a want of that degree of care that a reasonable person would observe in the actor's situation.
- E. Strict Liability: an element of an offense shall involve strict liability only when the definition of the offense or element clearly indicates a legislative purpose to impose strict liability for an element of the offense by use of the phrase strict liability or other terms of similar import, and when so used, no proof of a culpable mental state is required to establish the commission of the element or offense.
2. When the culpability sufficient to establish an element of an offense is not specifically prescribed, such element is established if a person acts purposely, knowingly, or recklessly with respect thereto.
 3. When the law defining an offense prescribes the kind of culpability that is sufficient for the commission of an offense, without distinguishing among the elements thereof, such provisions shall apply to all the material elements of the offense, unless a contrary purpose plainly appears.
 4. When the law provides that negligence suffices to establish an element of an offense, such element also is established if a person acts purposely, knowingly, or recklessly. When recklessness suffices to establish an element, such element is also established if a person acts purposely or knowingly. When acting knowingly suffices to establish an element, such element is also established if a person acts purposely.
 5. When a particular purpose is an element of an offense, the element is established although such purpose is conditional, unless the condition negates the harm or evil sought to be prevented by the offense.
 6. When knowledge of the existence of a particular fact is an element of an offense, such knowledge is established if a person is or should be aware of a high probability of its existence, unless he/she actually believes that it does not exist.
 7. A requirement that an offense be committed willfully is satisfied if a person acts knowingly with respect to the material elements of the offense, unless a purpose to impose further requirements appears.
 8. The knowledge that certain conduct constitutes an offense is not an element of the offense unless the definition so provides. The lack of understanding of the meaning or application of the law is not a defense to an offense unless so specified.
 9. When the grade or degree of an offense depends on whether the offense is committed purposely, knowingly, recklessly, or negligently, its grade or degree shall be the lowest for which the

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 2

determinative kind of culpability is established with respect to any element of the offense. [TCR 86-79]

3-203 Causal relationship between conduct and result.

1. Conduct is the cause of a result when:
 - A. It is an antecedent but for which the result in question would not have occurred; and
 - B. The relationship between the cause and result satisfied any additional causal requirements imposed by this Code or the definition of the offense.
2. When a particular mental state is specified in conjunction with an element of an offense, proof of the existence of that element is not avoided because the actual result differed from that intended or that which was probable or likely under the circumstances either in kind or degree or because a different person or different property was injured or affected than that intended or than that which was probable or likely under the circumstances, unless such differences are sufficient without consideration of the mental state involved to constitute a defense or avoidance or unless such differences are of such magnitude that it would be unjust to find the element involved in light of such differences. [TCR 86-79]

3-204 Ignorance or mistake of fact.

1. The law provides that the actual state of mind which exists itself constitutes a defense when intent is an element of the offense. However, state of mind may be inferred from the acts of the defendant.
2. Although ignorance or mistake of fact will otherwise afford a defense to the offense charge, the defense is not available if the defendant would be guilty of another offense if the situation had been as he/she supposed, in which case the punishment available upon conviction shall not exceed that prescribed for the other offense. [TCR 86-79]

3-205 Liability for conduct of another.

1. A person is guilty of an offense if it is committed by his/her own conduct or by the conduct of another person for whom he/she is legally accountable, or both.
2. A person is legally accountable for the conduct of another person when:
 - A. Acting with the kind of culpability that is sufficient for the commission of the offense, he/she causes an innocent or irresponsible person to engage in such conduct, or
 - B. He/she is an accomplice of such other person in the commission of the offense.
3. A person is an accomplice of another person in the commission of an offense if:
 - A. With the purpose of promoting or facilitating the commission of an offense, he/she (i) aids or agrees or attempts to aid such other person in planning or committing it; or (ii) having legal duty to prevent the commission of the offense, fails to make proper effort to do so.
 - B. His/her conduct is expressly declared by law to establish his/her complicity.
4. When causing a particular result is an element of an offense, an accomplice in the conduct causing such result is an accomplice in the commission of that offense, if he/she acts with the kind of culpability, if any, with respect to that result that is sufficient for the commission of the offense.
5. A person who is legally incapable of committing a particular offense him/herself may be guilty thereof if it is committed by the conduct of another person for whom he/she is legally accountable, unless such liability is inconsistent with the purpose of his/her incapacity.
6. Unless otherwise provided by the Code or by the law defining the offense, a person is not an accomplice in an offense committed by another person if.

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 2

- A. He/she is a victim of that offense; or
 - B. The offense is so defined that his/her conduct is inevitably incident to its commission; or
 - C. He/she terminates his/her complicity prior to the commission of the offense, and
 - i. Wholly deprives it of effectiveness in the offense; or gives timely warning to law enforcement authorities or otherwise makes proper effort to prevent the commission of the offense.
7. An accomplice may be convicted on proof of the commission of the offense and of his/her complicity therein, though the person claimed to have committed the offense has not been prosecuted or convicted of a different offense or degree of offense or has immunity from prosecution or has been acquitted.
8. Notwithstanding the above, no person shall be held legally accountable in any criminal proceeding for another's criminal conduct solely because of their familial or marital relationship with any person accused of criminal conduct. [TCR 86-79]

3-206 Corporation and unincorporated associations.

- 1. A person is legally accountable for any conduct he/she performs or causes to be performed in the name of a corporation or unincorporated association or in its behalf to the same extent as if it were performed in his/her own name or behalf.
- 2. Whenever a duty to act is imposed by law upon a corporation or unincorporated association, any agent of the corporation or association having primary responsibility for the discharge of the duty is legally accountable for a reckless omission to perform the required act to the same extent as if the duty were imposed by law directly upon him/herself.
- 3. When a person is convicted of an offense by reason of his/her legal accountability for the conduct of a corporation or an unincorporated association, he/she is subject to the sentence authorized by law when a natural person is convicted of an offense of the class involved. [TCR 86-79]

3-207 Intoxication.

- 1. Except as provided in subsection (4) of this Section, intoxication of the actor is not a defense unless it negates an element of the offense, including, but not limited to, "specific intent."
- 2. When recklessness establishes an element of the offense, if the actor, due to self-induced intoxication, is unaware of risk of which he/she would have been aware had he/she been sober, such lack of awareness is not a defense to the crime charged.
- 3. Intoxication does not, in itself, constitute a mental disease as that term is used in this Code.
- 4. Intoxication which (A) is not self induced, or (B) is the result of intoxication excessive in degree given the amount of intoxicant, to which result the actor does not know he/she is susceptible, is an affirmative defense if by reason thereof the defendant lacks substantial capacity either to appreciate the wrongfulness of his/her conduct or to conform his/her conduct to the requirements of the law.
- 5. "Intoxication" means a disturbance of mental or physical capabilities and/or capacities resulting from the introduction of substances into the body. Except as otherwise provided in the Code, intoxication must be proven by use of scientific testing equipment e.g., intoxilyzer. The arresting officer must have reasonable grounds to believe that such person has alcohol in his/her body, or has committed a moving traffic violation, or has been involved in a traffic accident. [TCR 86-79]

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 2

3-208 Duress.

1. Except as herein otherwise provided, it is an affirmative defense that the actor engaged in conduct constituting an offense because he/she was coerced to do so by the use of, or threat to use, unlawful force against his/her person or the person of another, which a law-abiding person of reasonable firmness in his/her situation would have been unable to resist.
2. The defense provided in this Section is unavailable to a person who intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly places him/herself in a situation in which it is probable that he/she will be subject to duress.
3. It is not a defense that a spouse acted on the command of his/her spouse, unless they acted under coercion as would establish a defense under subsection (1) above. No presumption of duress arises from the mere presence of one spouse at the time the other acted.
4. The defense provided in this Section is unavailable in any situation where the coerced conduct threatens to cause death or serious bodily harm to some person other than the actor or does in fact cause such harm. [TCR 86-79]

3-209 Consent.

1. The consent of the victim to conduct constituting an offense or to the result thereof is a defense if such consent negates an element of the offense or precludes the infliction of the harm or evil sought to be prevented by the law defining the offense.
2. When conduct constitutes an offense because it threatens to cause or causes bodily harm, consent to such conduct or to the infliction of such harm is a defense only if:
 - A. The bodily harm consented to or threatened by the conduct consented to is not serious; or
 - B. The conduct and the harm are reasonably foreseeable hazards of joint participants in a lawful activity; or
 - C. The consent establishes a justification for the conduct under this Code.
3. Unless otherwise provided by the Code or the law defining the offense, assent does not constitute consent if:
 - A. It is given by a person who is legally incompetent to authorize the conduct constituting an offense; or
 - B. It is given by a person who by reason of youth, mental disease or defect or intoxication is manifestly unable or known to the actor to be unable to make a reasonable judgment as to the nature or the harmfulness of the conduct constituting the offenses; or
 - C. It is given by a person whose improvident consent is sought to be prevented by the law defining the offense; or
 - D. It is induced by force, duress, or deception. [TCR 86-79]

3-210 Entrapment.

1. A public law enforcement officer or official or a person acting in cooperation with such an official perpetrates an entrapment if for the purpose of obtaining evidence of the commission of an offense, he/she induces or encourages another person to engage in conduct constituting an offense by either:
 - A. Making knowingly false representations designed to induce the belief that such conduct is not prohibited; or
 - B. Employing methods of persuasion or inducement which create a substantial risk that such an offense will be committed by persons other than those who are ready to commit it in the absence of such inducement.

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 2

2. The defense afforded by this Section shall be unavailable when causing or threatening bodily injury is an element of the offense charged and the prosecution is based on conduct causing or threatening such injury to a person other than the person perpetrating the entrapment.
3. Except as provided in (2) above, a person prosecuted for an offense shall be acquitted if he/she proves by a preponderance of the evidence that his/her conduct occurred in response to an entrapment. The issue of entrapment shall be tried to and decided by the court and not by jury. Evidence of past offenses shall be admissible only if the defendant takes the stand in his/her own defense. [TCR 86-79]

3-211 Mental disease or defect.

1. In any prosecution for an offense, it shall be a defense that the defendant, at the time of the conduct upon which the prosecution is based, as a result of mental disease or defect lacked substantial capacity either to appreciate the wrongfulness of his/her conduct or to conform his/her conduct to the requirement of the law.
2. As used in this Section, the terms mental diseases or defect do not include an abnormality manifested only by repeated criminal or otherwise antisocial conduct.
3. The defense afforded by this Section shall not be available unless notice of intent to rely on such defense is given at least two weeks before trial. By giving such notice, the defendant will be deemed to have consented to be examined for the prosecution by not more than two professional medical or other experts for the purpose of ascertaining the state of defendant's mental health.
4. No person who, as a result of mental disease or defect, lacks capacity to understand the proceedings against him/her or to assist in his/her own defense shall be tried, convicted, or sentenced for the commission of an offense so long as such incapacity endures.
5. The defendant shall have the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that he/she has a mental disease or defect within the meaning of this Section. [TCR 86-79]

3-212 Justification; terms defined. As used in Sections 3-212 to 3-222 unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Unlawful forces" shall mean force, including confinement, which is employed without the consent of the person against whom it is directed and the employment of which constitutes an offense or actionable tort or would constitute such offense or tort except for a defense such as the absence of intent, negligence, or mental capacity, duress, youth, or diplomatic status; not amounting to a privilege to use the force;
2. "Assent" shall mean consent, whether or not it otherwise is legally effective, except assent to the infliction of death or serious bodily harm;
3. "Deadly force" shall mean force which the actor uses with the purpose of causing or which he/she knows to create a substantial risk of causing death or serious bodily harm. Purposely firing a firearm in the direction of another person or at a vehicle in which another person is believed to be constitutes deadly force. A threat to cause death or serious bodily harm, by the production of a weapon or otherwise, so long as the actor's purpose is limited to creating an apprehension that he/she will use deadly force if necessary, shall not constitute deadly force;
4. "Actor" shall mean any person who uses force in such a manner as to attempt to invoke the privileges and immunities afforded him/her by Sections 3-213 to 3-222, except any duly authorized law enforcement officer of the state, or the Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska, or the United States.
5. "Dwelling" shall mean any building or structure, though movable or temporary, or a portion thereto, which is for the time being the actor's home or place of lodging; and

TITLE 3 ARTICLE 2

6. "Public servants" shall mean any elected or appointed officer or employee of the Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska, the United States, or the state, except any duly authorized law enforcement officer of the state, the Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska, or the United States. [TCR 86-79]

3-213 Justification; choice of evils.

1. Conduct which the actor believes to be necessary to avoid a harm or evil to him/her or to another is justifiable if:
 - A. The harm or evil sought to be avoided by such conduct is greater than that sought to be prevented by the law defining the offense charged;
 - B. Neither Section 3-213 to 3-222, nor other law defining the offense provides exceptions for defenses dealing with the specific situation involved; and
 - C. A legislative purpose to exclude the justification claimed does not otherwise plainly appear.
2. When the actor was reckless or negligent in bringing about the situation requiring a choice of harms or evils or in appraising the necessity for his/her conduct, the justification afforded by this Section is unavailable in prosecution for any offense for which recklessness or negligence, as the case may be, suffices to establish culpability. [TCR 86-79]

3-214 Public duty; execution.

1. Except as provided in subsection (2) of this Section, conduct is justifiable when it is required or authorized by:
 - A. The law defining the duties or functions of a public officer or the assistance to be rendered to such officer in the performance of his/her duties;
 - B. The law governing the execution of legal process;
 - C. The judgment or order of a competent court or tribunal;
 - D. The law governing the armed services or the lawful conduct of war; or
 - E. Any other provision of law imposing a public duty.
2. Sections 3-213 to 3-222, shall apply to:
 - A. The use of force upon or toward the person of another for any of the purposes dealt with in such sections; and
 - B. The use of deadly force for any purpose, unless the use of such force is otherwise expressly authorized by law or occurs in the lawful conduct of war.
3. The justification afforded by subsection (1) of this Section shall apply:
 - A. When the actor believes his/her conduct to be required or authorized by the judgment or direction of a competent court or tribunal or in the lawful execution of legal process, notwithstanding lack of jurisdiction of the court or defect in the legal process; and
 - B. When the actor believes his/her conduct to be required or authorized to assist a public officer in the performance of his/her duties, notwithstanding that the officer exceeded this legal authority. [TCR 86-79]

3-215 Use of force; self-protection.

1. Subject to the provisions of this Section and of Section 3-220, the use of force upon or toward another person is justifiable when the actor believes that such force is immediately necessary for the purpose of protecting him/herself against the use of unlawful force by such other person on the present occasion.

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 2

2. The use of such force is not justifiable under this Section to resist an affect which the actor known is being made by a peace officer, although the arrest is unlawful.
3. The use of such force is not justifiable under this Section to resist force by the occupier or possessor of property or by another person on his/her behalf, where the actor knows that the person using the force is doing so under a claim of right to protect the property, except that this limitation shall not apply if:
 - A. The actor is a public officer acting in the performance of his/her duties or person lawfully assisting him/her therein or a person making or assisting in a lawful arrest;
 - B. The actor has been unlawfully dispossessed of the property and is making are entry or recapture justified by Section 3-217; or
 - C. The actor believes that such force is necessary to protect him/herself against death or serious bodily harm.
4. The use of deadly force shall not be justifiable under this Section unless the actor believes that such force is necessary to protect him/herself against death, serious bodily harm, kidnapping or sexual intercourse compelled by force or threat, nor is it justifiable if:
 - A. The actor, with the purpose of causing death or serious bodily harm, provoked the use of force against him/herself in the same encounter; or
 - B. The actor knows that he/she can avoid the necessity of using such force with complete safety by retreating or by surrendering possession of a thing to a person asserting a claim of right thereto or by complying with a demand that he/she abstain from any action which he/she has no duty to take, except that:
 - i. The actor shall not be obliged to retreat from his/her dwelling or place of work, unless he/she was the initial aggressor or is assailed in his/her place of work by another person whose place of work the actor knows it to be; and a public officer justified in using force in the performance of his/her duties or person justified in using force in his/her assistance or a person justified in using force in making an arrest or preventing an escape shall not be obliged to desist from efforts to perform such duty, effect such arrest or prevent such escape because of resistance or threatened resistance by or on behalf of the person against whom such action is directed.
5. Except as required by subsections (3) and (4) of this Section, a person employing protective force may estimate the necessity thereof under the circumstance as he/she believes them to be when the force is used, without retreating, surrendering possession, doing any other act which he/she has no legal duty to do, or abstaining from any lawful action.
6. The justification afforded by this Section extends to the use of confinement as protective force only if the actor takes all reasonable measures to terminate the confinement as soon as he/she knows that he/she safely can do so, unless the person confined has been arrested on charge of crime. [TCR 86-79]

3-216 Use of force; protection of other persons.

1. Subject to the provisions of this Section and of Section 3-210, the use of force upon or toward the person of another is justifiable to protect a third person when:
 - A. The actor would be justified under Section 3-215, in using such force to protect him/herself against the injury he/she believes to be threatened to the person whom he/she seeks to protect;
 - B. Under the circumstances as the actor believes them to be, the person whom he/she seeks to protect would be justified in using such protective force; and

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 2

- C. The actor believes that his/her intervention is necessary for the protection of such other person.
- 2. Notwithstanding subsection (1) of this Section:
 - A. When the actor would be obliged under Section 3-215 to retreat, to surrender the possession of a thing or to comply with a demand before using force in self-protection, he/she shall not be obliged to do so before using force for the protection of another person, unless he/she knows that he/she can thereby secure the complete safety of such other person;
 - B. When the person whom the actor seeks to protect would be obliged under Section 3-215 to retreat, to surrender the possession of a thing or to comply with a demand if he/she knew that he/she could obtain complete safety by so doing, the actor is obliged to try to cause him/her to do so before using force in his/her protection if the actor knows that he/she can obtain complete safety in that way; and
 - C. Neither the actor nor the person whom he/she seeks to protect is obliged to retreat when in the other's dwelling or place of work to any greater extent than in his/her own. [TCR 86-79]

3-217 Use of force; protection of property

- 1. Subject to the provisions of this Section and of Section 3-220, the use of force upon or toward the person of another is justifiable when the actor believes that such force is immediately necessary:
 - A. To prevent or terminate an unlawful entry or other trespass upon land or a trespass against or the unlawful carrying away of tangible, movable property; provided, that such land or movable property is, or is believed by the actor to be, in his/her possession or in the possession of another person for whose protection he/she acts; or
 - B. To effect an entry or reentry upon land or to retake tangible movable property; provided, that the actor believes that he/she or the person by whose authority he/she acts or a person from whom he/she or such other person derives title was unlawfully dispossessed of such land or movable property and is entitled to possession and provided that:
 - i. The force is used immediately or on fresh pursuit after such dispossession; or
 - ii. The actor believes that the person against whom he/she uses force has no claim of right to the possession of the property and, in the case of land, the circumstances, as the actor believes them to be, are of such urgency that it would be an exceptional hardship to postpone the entry or reentry until a court order is obtained.
- 2. For the purposes of subsection (1) of this Section:
 - A. A person who had parted with the custody of property to another who refuses to restore it to him/her is no longer in possession, unless such property is movable and was and still is located on land in his/her possession;
 - B. A person who has been dispossessed of land does not regain possession thereof merely by setting foot there on; and
 - C. A person who has a license to use or occupy real property is deemed to be in possession thereof except against the licenser acting under claim of right.
- 3. The use of force is justifiable under this Section only if the actor first requests the person against whom such force is used to desist from his/her interference with the property, unless the actor believes that:
 - A. Such request would be useless;
 - B. It would be dangerous to him/herself or another person to make the request; or

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 2

- C. Substantial harm will be done to the physical condition of the property which is sought to be protected before the request can effectively be made.
- 4. The use of force to prevent or terminate at trespass is not justifiable under this Section if the actor knows that dire exclusion of the trespasser will expose him/her to substantial danger of serious bodily harm.
- 5. The use of force to prevent an entry or reentry upon land or the recapture of movable property is not justifiable under this Section although the actor believes that such reentry or recapture is unlawful, if:
 - A. The reentry or recapture is made by or on behalf of a person who was actually dispossessed of the property; and
 - B. It is otherwise justifiable under subsection (1)(B) of this Section.
- 6. The use of deadly force is not justifiable under this Section unless the actor believes that the person against whom the force is used is attempting to commit or consummate arson, burglary, robbery or other felonious theft or property destruction and either:
 - A. Has employed or threatened deadly force against or in the presence of the actor; or
 - B. The use of force other than deadly force to prevent the commission or the consummation of the crime would expose the actor or another in his/her presence to substantial danger of serious bodily harm.
- 7. The justification afforded by this Section extends to the use of confinement as protective force only if the actor takes all reasonable measures to terminate the confinement as soon as he/she knows that he/she can do so with safety to the property, unless the person confined has been arrested on a charge of crime.
- 8. The justification afforded by this Section extends to the use of advice for the purpose of protecting property only if:
 - A. Such device is not designed to cause or known to create a substantial risk of causing death or serious bodily harm;
 - B. Such use of the particular device to protect such property from entry or trespass is reasonable under the circumstances, as the actor believes them to be; and
 - C. Such device is one customarily used for such a purpose or reasonable care is taken to make known to probable intruders the fact that it is used.
- 9. The use of force to pass a person whom the actor believes to be purposely or knowingly and unjustifiably obstructing the actor from going to a place to which he/she may lawfully go is justifiable if:
 - A. The actor believes that the person against whom he/she uses force has no claim of right to obstruct the actor;
 - B. The actor is not being obstructed from entry or movement on land which he/she knows to be in the possession or custody of the person obstructing him/her, or in the possession or custody of another person by whose authority the obstructor acts, unless the circumstances, as the actor believes them to be, are of such urgency that it would not be reasonable to postpone the entry or movement on such land until a court order is obtained; and
 - C. The force used is not greater than would be justifiable if the person obstructing the actor were using force against him/her to prevent his/her passage. [TCR 86-79]

3-218 Use of force; law enforcement.

- 1. Subject to the provisions of this Section and of Section 3-220, the use of force upon or toward the person of another is justifiable when the actor is making or assisting an arrest and the actor believes that such force is immediately necessary to effect a lawful arrest.

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 2

2. The use of force is not justifiable under this Section unless:
 - A. The actor makes known the purpose of the arrest or believes that it is otherwise known by or cannot reasonably be made known to the person to be arrested; and
 - B. When the arrest is made under a warrant, the warrant is valid or believed by the actor to be valid.
3. The use of deadly force is not justifiable under this Section unless:
 - A. The arrest is for a criminal offense;
 - B. Such person effecting the arrest is authorized to act as a peace officer or is assisting a person whom he/she believes to be authorized to act as a peace officer;
 - C. The actor believes that the force employed creates no substantial risk of injury to innocent persons; and the actor reasonably believes that: force; or the crime for which the arrest is made involved conduct including the use or threatened use of deadly.
 - i. There is a substantial risk that the person to be arrested will cause death or serious bodily harm if this apprehension is delayed.
4. The use of reasonable force to prevent the escape of an arrested person from custody is justifiable. A guard or other person authorized to act as a peace officer is justified in using reasonable force which he/she believes to be immediately necessary to prevent the escape of a person from jail, prison, or other institution for the detention of persons charged with or convicted of a crime.
5. A private person who assists another private person in effecting an unlawful arrest, or who assists a peace officer in effecting an unlawful arrest, is justified in using force which he/she would be justified in using if the arrest were lawful, if:
 - A. He/she reasonably believes the arrest is lawful; and
 - B. The arrest would be lawful if the facts were as he/she believes them to be.
6. The use of force upon or toward the person of another is justifiable when the actor believes that such force is immediately necessary to prevent such other person from committing suicide, inflicting serious bodily harm upon him/herself, committing or consummating the commission of a crime involving or threatening bodily harm, damage to or loss of property or a breach of the peace, except that:
 - A. Any initiation imposed by the other provisions of Sections 3-212 to 3-222 on the justifiable use of force in self-protection, for the protection of others, the protection of property, the effectuation of an arrest or the prevention of an escape from custody shall apply notwithstanding the criminality of the conduct against which such force is used; and
 - B. The use of deadly force is not in any event justifiable under this subsection unless the actor reasonably believes that there is a substantial risk that the person who he/she seeks to prevent from committing a crime will cause death or serious bodily harm to another unless the commission or the consummation of the crime is prevented and that the use of such force presents no substantial risk of injury to innocent persons.
7. The justification afforded by subsection (6) of this Section extends to the use of confinement as preventive force only if the actor takes all reasonable measures to terminate the confinement as soon as he/she knows that he/she safely can do so, unless the person confined has been arrested on a charge of crime. [TCR 86-79, 89-87]

3-219 Use of force by person with special responsibility for care, discipline, or safety of others. The use of force upon or toward the person of another is justifiable if:

1. The actor is the parent or guardian or other person similarly responsible for the general care and supervision if a minor or a person acting at the request of such parent, guardian or other responsible person and:

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 2

- A. Such force is used for the purpose of safeguarding or promoting the welfare of the minor, including the prevention or punishment of his/her misconduct; and
- B. Such force used is not designed to cause or known to create a substantial risk of causing death, serious bodily harm, disfigurement, extreme pain or mental distress or gross degradation; or
2. The actor is a teacher or a person otherwise entrusted with the care or supervision for a special purpose of a minor and:
 - A. The actor believes that the force used is necessary to further such special purpose, including the maintenance of reasonable discipline in a school, class or other group, and that the use of such force is consistent with the welfare of the minor; and
 - B. The degree of force, if it had been used by the parent or guardian of the minor, would not be unjustifiable under subdivision (1)(B) of this Section;
3. The actor is the guardian or other person similarly responsible for the general care and supervision of an incompetent person, and:
 - A. Such force is used for the purpose of safeguarding or promoting the welfare of the incompetent person, including the prevention of his/her misconduct, or, when such incompetent person is in a hospital or other institution for his/her care and custody, for the maintenance of reasonable discipline in such institution; and
 - B. Such force used is not designed to cause or known to create a substantial risk of causing death, serious bodily harm, disfigurement, extreme or unnecessary pain, mental distress, or humiliation;
4. The actor is a doctor or other therapist or a person assisting him/her at his/her direction, and:
 - A. Such force is used for the purpose of administering a recognized form of treatment which the actor believes to be adapted to promoting the physical or mental health of the patient; and
 - B. Such treatment is administered with the consent of the patient or, if the patient is a minor or an incompetent person, with the consent of his/her parent or guardian or other person legally competent to consent in his/her behalf, or the treatment is administered in an emergency when the actor believes that no one competent to consent can be consulted and that a reasonable person, wishing to safeguard the welfare of the patient, would consent;
5. The actor is a jailer or other authorized official of a jail and:
 - A. He/she believes that the force used is necessary for the purpose of enforcing the lawful rules or procedures of the institution, unless his/her belief in the lawfulness of the rule or procedure sought to be enforced is erroneous and his/her error is the result of ignorance or mistake as to the provisions of Sections 3-212 to 3-222, any other provisions of the criminal law, or the law governing the administration of the institution;
 - B. The nature or degree of force used is not forbidden by Sections 3-214 to 3-215; and
 - C. If deadly force is used, its use is otherwise justifiable under Sections 3-212 to 3-222;
6. The actor is a person who is authorized or required by law to maintain order or decorum in a vehicle, train or other carrier or in a place where others are assembled, and:
 - A. He/she believes that the force used is necessary for such purpose; and
 - B. Such force used is not designed to cause or known to create a substantial risk of causing death, bodily harm, or extreme mental distress. [TCR 86-79]

3-220 Mistake of law; reckless or negligent use of force.

1. The justification afforded by Sections 3-215 to 3-218, is unavailable when:

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 2

- A. The actor's belief in the unlawfulness of the force or conduct against which he/she employs protective force or his/her belief in the lawfulness of an arrest which he/she endeavors to effect by force is erroneous; and
 - B. His/her error is the result of ignorance or mistake as to the provisions of Sections 3-212 to 3-222, any other provision of the criminal law, or the law governing the legality of an arrest or search.
2. When the actor believes that the use of force toward another person is justifiable (as under Sections 3-216 to 3-219), but, the actor is reckless or negligent in having such belief, the justification afforded by those sections is unavailable in a prosecution or an offense for which recklessness or negligence, as the case may be, suffices to establish culpability.
 3. When the actor is justified under Sections 3-214 to 3-219 in using force upon or toward the person of another but he/she recklessly or negligently injures or creates a risk of injury to innocent persons, the justification afforded by those sections is unavailable in a prosecution for such recklessness or negligence towards innocent persons. [TCR 86-79]

3-221 Justification in property crimes. Conduct involving the appropriation, seizure or destruction of, damage to, intrusion on or interference with property is justifiable under circumstances which would establish a defense of privilege in a civil action based thereon, unless:

1. Sections 3-212 to 3-222, or the law defining the offense deals with the specific situation involved; or
2. A legislative purpose to exclude the justification claimed otherwise plainly appears. [TCR 86-79]

3-222 Justification an affirmative defense; civil remedies unaffected.

1. In any prosecution based on conduct which is justifiable under Sections 3-212 to 3-222, justification is an affirmative defense.
2. The fact that conduct is justifiable under Sections 3-212 to 3-222, does not abolish or impair any remedy for such conduct which is available in any civil action. [TCR 86-79]

3-309 Theft; terms defined. As used in Sections 3-309 to 3-319, unless the context otherwise requires:

7. "Receiving" shall mean acquiring possession, control or title, or lending on the security of the property, and
8. "Stolen" shall mean property which has been the subject of theft or robbery or a vehicle which is received from a person who is then in violation of Section 3-318. [TCR 86-79]

3-310 Consolidation of theft offenses. Conduct denominated theft in Sections 3-309 to 3-319 constitutes a single offense embracing the separated offenses heretofore known as larceny, embezzlement, false pretense, extortion, blackmail, fraudulent conversion, receiving stolen property, and the like. An accusation of theft may be supported by evidence that it was committed in any manner that would be theft under Sections 3-309 to 3-319, notwithstanding the specification of a different manner in the indictment or information, subject only to the power of the court to insure fair trial by granting a continuance or other appropriate relief where the conduct of the defense would be prejudiced by lack of fair notice or by surprise. [TCR 86-79]

3-311 Theft by unlawful taking or disposition.

1. A person is guilty of theft if he/she takes, or exercises control over, movable property of another with the intent to deprive him/her thereof.
2. A person is guilty of theft if he/she transfers immovable property of another or any interest therein with the intent to benefit him/herself or another not entitled thereto.
3. For the purposes of this Section, it shall be presumed that a lessee's failure to return leased or rented movable property to the lessor after the expiration of a written lease or written rental agreement is done with intent to deprive if such lessee has been mailed notice by certified mail that such lease or rental agreement has expired and he/she has failed within ten (10) days after such notice to return such property. [TCR 86-79]

3-312 Theft by shoplifting: penalty.

 - E. Causes the cash register or other sales recording device to reflect less than the retail price of the merchandise. [TCR 86-79]

3-313 Theft by deception. A person commits theft if he/she obtains property of another by deception. A person deceives if he/she intentionally:

WINNEBAGO TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 3 ARTICLE 3

1. Creates or reinforces a false impression, including false impressions as to law, value, intention, or other state of mind; but deception as to a person's intention to perform a promise shall not be inferred from the fact alone that he/she did not subsequently perform the promise; or
2. Prevents another from acquiring information which would affect his/her judgment of transaction; or
3. Fails to correct a false impression which the deceiver previously created or reinforced, or which the deceiver knows to be influencing another to whom he/she stands in a fiduciary or confidential relationship; or
4. Uses a credit card, charge plate, or any other instrument which purports to evidence an undertaking to pay for property or services delivered or rendered to or upon the order of a designated person or bearer:
 - A. Where such instrument has been stolen, forged, revoked or canceled, or where for any other reason its use by the actor is unauthorized; or
 - B. Where the actor does not have the intention and ability to meet all obligations to the issuer arising out of his/her use of the instrument. The word deceive does not include falsity as to matter having no pecuniary significance, or statements unlikely to deceive ordinary persons in the group addressed. [TCR 86-79]

3-314 Theft by extortion.

1. A person commits theft if he/she obtains property of another by threatening to:
 - A. Inflict bodily injury on anyone or commit any other criminal offense; or
 - B. Accuse anyone of a criminal offense; or
 - C. Expose any secret tending to subject any person to hatred, contempt or ridicule, or to impair his/her credit or business repute; or
 - D. Take or withhold action as an official, or cause an official to take or withhold action; or
 - E. Bring about or continue a strike, boycott, or other collective unofficial action, if the property is not received for the benefit of group in whose interest the actor purports to act; or
 - F. Testify or provide information or withhold testimony or information with respect to another's legal claim or defense.
 - G. It is an affirmative defense to prosecution based on subdivision (1)(B), (1)(C), or (1)(D) of this Section that the property obtained by threat of accusation, exposure, lawsuit or other invocation of official action was honestly claimed as restitution or indemnification for harm done in the circumstances to which such accusation, exposure, lawsuit or other official action relates, or as compensation for property or lawful services. [TCR 86-79]

3-315 Theft of property lost, mislaid, or delivered by mistake; penalty. A person who comes into control of property of another that he/she knows to have been lost, mislaid, or delivered under a mistake as to the nature or amount of the property or the identity of the recipient commits theft if, with intent to deprive the owner thereof, he/she fails to take reasonable measures to restore the property to a person entitled to have it. Any person violating the provisions of this Section shall upon conviction thereof, be punished by the penalty prescribed in the next lower classification below the value of the item lost, mislaid, or delivered under mistake pursuant to Section 3-319. [TCR 86-79]

TITLE 3 ARTICLE 3

3-316 Theft of services; penalty.

1. A person commits theft if he/she obtains services which he/she knows are available only for compensation, by deception or threat, or by false token or other means to avoid payment for the service. Services include labor, professional service, telephone service, electric service, other public service, accommodation in hotels, restaurants or elsewhere, admission to exhibitions, and use of vehicles or other movable property. Where compensation for service is ordinarily paid immediately upon the rendering of such service, as in the case of hotels and restaurants, refusal to pay or absconding without payment or offer to pay gives rise to a presumption that the service was obtained by deception as to intention to pay.
2. A person commits theft if having control over the disposition of services of others, to which he/she is not entitled, he/she diverts such services to his/her own benefit or to the benefit of another not entitled thereto.
3. Any person who makes or possesses any device, instrument, apparatus, or equipment designed or which can be used to obtain telecommunications service fraudulently or to conceal from any supplier of telecommunications service or from any lawful authority the existence or place of origin or of destination of any telecommunication; or who sells, gives or otherwise transfers to another, or offers or advertises for sale, any such device, instrument, apparatus, or equipment, or plans or instructions for making or assembling the same, under circumstances evincing an intent to use or employ such device, instrument, apparatus, or equipment, or to allow the same to be used or employed, for a purpose described in this subsection, or knowing or having reason to believe that the same is intended to be used, or that the plans or instructions are intended to be used, for making or assembling such device, instrument, apparatus, or equipment is guilty of a Class II offense. [TCR 86-79]

3-317 Unauthorized use of a propelled vehicle; affirmative defense; penalty.
