IHS awards contract to temporarily staff and operate Emergency Departments at 3 hospitals

Patients to benefit from increased number of Emergency Department health care providers at these IHS facilities in South Dakota and Nebraska. The Indian Health Service today awarded a contract with a ceiling of $60 million in total for up to 5 years to AB Staffing Solutions, LLC, to provide a temporary surge in Emergency Department staffing, operations support and management services at three hospitals: Rosebud Hospital and Pine Ridge Hospital in South Dakota and Omaha Winnebago Hospital in Nebraska. IHS is using short-term funding to provide health care in these hospital emergency rooms while IHS reviews the administrative and clinical operations of its facilities across the region to develop long-term solutions.

This new contract underscores the IHS commitment to pursuing creative new solutions that ensure high quality care for our patients, who are our top priority," said Mary Smith, principal deputy director of the IHS. "The new contract will benefit IHS patients and providers by ensuring a 24-hour Emergency Department at IHS Rosebud Hospital and two others. IHS recognizes that high quality emergency room services are critical to communities." This limited-term contract will support IHS at a first step in staffing the Emergency Department at Rosebud

Hospital. Insufficient staffing contributed to some patients on Rosebud reservation being diverted to other facilities for care. Urgent care services and other inpatient and outpatient hospital services at Rosebud have remained continuously available. The contract has a base period of one year, with four option years that IHS could choose to execute, meaning that it could extend up to five years in total. As part of IHS's commitment to quality care throughout these hospitals, IHS staff serving in these Emergency Departments will be assigned to other departments, enabling IHS to decrease

Ex Husker Visits Boys & Girls Club participants

Tyrone Christopher Hughes a former American football defensive back in the National Football League for the New Orleans Saints, Chicago Bears, and the Dallas Cowboys, recently paid a visit to the WinnaVegas Casino Resort. The visit sponsored by WinnaVegas Casino from the former Nebraska Cornhusker was attended by fans and fans from the Winnebago Boys & Girls Club.

Hughes graduated from St. Augustine High School in New Orleans, where he also ran track. He played his college football at the University of Nebraska and was drafted in the fifth round of the 1993 NFL Draft.

Hughes went to the Pro Bowl after his rookie season in 1993 as a kick returner. On October 23, 1994 he set the NFL record for most kickoff return yards in a single game (304) and the most combined kickoff/punt return yards in a game (347). He also had 2 kick off returns for touchdowns that same game which tied another NFL record.[1][2]

In 2015 Hughes was selected for the New Orleans Saints Hall of Fame.

In My Opinion

Thoughts from a New Casino?... by Lance Morgan

We have spent over $1 million dollars trying to get casino style gambling on the ballot for horse tracks in Nebraska. As you might know, we own the horse track in South Sioux City and have partnered with the other tracks to see if we could get expanded gambling in Nebraska. The governor of Nebraska is firmly against our efforts, but we continue to push forward.

We need 115,000 signatures by July 7th, which we will no doubt succeed in getting. We expect some kind of legal challenge though this summer, which is what happened the last time we tried this through the state legislature. In order to limit the legal risk, we used ballot language that had been approved before by the Nebraska Attorney General in a 2004 attempt to expand gaming. Despite our efforts, we expect to have a legal fight on our hands, which when you are an Indian tribe should always make you nervous.

If we survive our legal battle, our polling shows that 60 percent of Nebraskan's support expanded gambling in Nebraska. Every state that touches Nebraska has some form of casino gambling and Nebraska loses about $400 million a year to surrounding states. Even people who don't support gaming realize that Nebraskan's are spending a lot of money in other states and that Nebraska might as well keep some of that money. There was a meeting at the Marina Inn in South Sioux City where our governor was saying he didn't want gambling in Nebraska, but you could see the Hard Rock casino sign out the window across the river in Iowa and no doubt it had plenty of cars with Nebraska license plates.

If this effort fails then we are out quite a bit of money, but we thought it was worth the risk because if it is successful then it could greatly expand our economic interests for years to come. It would also likely lead to allowing expanded Class III gaming at our smaller reservation casinos, which are forced to use what amounts to super bingo type machines. These types of bingo machines have an outside company that takes a percentage of the win. Using machines we own will up the profitability of our local operations.

All in all this is an expensive gamble that we hope works, so wish ourselves luck because if it works out then we will all be a little bit better off. Also, if you haven't signed the petition, please do so.

JESUS OUR SAVIOR LUTHERAN OUTREACH

Pastor Ricky Jacob

"The Ho-Chunk's Creed #1"

Recently I came across a copy of "The Ho-Chunk's Creed" that was given out in a Winnebago History 1 class at Little Priest Tribal College. Our instructor listed fifteen main thoughts of the Ho-Chunk Nation.

The first one was: 'While he believed in many gods, he accepted the idea of one supreme spirit, who was everywhere all the time; whose help was needed continually, and might be secured by prayer and sacrifice.'

Would you agree with this first main thought of belief?

Within this first main thought are several thoughts. The first being that there are many gods. I wonder what a Ho-Chunk would consider his/her god?

According to Isaiah, a prophet of God of the tribe of Israel: "I am Yahweh, and there is no other. Besides me, there is no god. I will equip you even though you do not know me. So that they will know from the rising of the sun to the place of its setting that there is no one besides me. I am Yahweh, and there is no other, the one forming light and creating darkness, the one making peace and creating calamity. I am Yahweh, the one doing these." [Isaiah 45:5-7 as translated by R. Reed Lessing]

God's prophet who was inspired by the Spirit of God continues: "There is no god besides me, a righteous God and Savior; there is no one besides me. Turn to me so that you may be saved, all the ends of the earth! Because I am God, and there is no other." [Isaiah 45:21d-22 as translated by R. Reed Lessing]

God's Word has gone out to the ends of the earth through true Christian believers who tell of His saving message.

The second part of the Ho-Chunk's first creedal statement is 'the idea of one supreme spirit.' There is one who would certainly agree with this part of the Ho-Chunk creed. Here are his words, "God is spirit, and it is necessary that those who worship him worship in Spirit and Truth."

These words were spoken to a half-breed Jewish/Samaritan woman who responded, "I know that Messiah (Hebrew for 'anointed one') is coming, the one called Christ (Greek for 'anointed one'). Jesus said to her, "I AM (in Hebrew 'Yahweh = I AM who I AM'), the one who is speaking to you." [John 4:24-26 as translated by William C. Weinrich - (with my translation)].

The next part of the Ho-Chunk creedal statement is 'who was everywhere all the time.' "Am I only a God nearby," declares the LORD, "and not a God far away? Can anyone hide in secret places so that I cannot see him?" declares the LORD. "Do not I fill heaven and earth?" declares the LORD. [Jeremiah 23:23-25 NIV]

The Ho-Chunk creedal statement continues 'and might be secured by prayer and sacrifice.'

One turns to God in faith, a gift of God's Spirit. Faith leads one to trust in God above everything else and to call upon Him in prayer. As regard to sacrifice. David wrote these words in a Hebrew song:

For you will not delight in sacrifice, or I would give it; you will not be pleased with a burnt offering.

The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; a broken and contrite heart, O God, you will not despise. [Psalm 51:16-17 ESV]

The sacrifice that paid for your sin and my sin is found only in the sacrifice of the Son of God: The apostle John writes: "My children, these things I write to you lest you sin. But if anyone does sin, we have before the Father a paraclete (intercessor), Jesus Christ, the righteous, and his is the atoning sacrifice concerning our sins, and not concerning ours only but also concerning those of the whole world." [1st John 2:1-2 as translated by Bruce G. Schuchard (with my translation)].

Next time reflections from God's Word on the second main thought from the Ho-Chunk's Creed: "He believed in the immortality of the soul, and that his future condition was to be determined by the behavior in this life."

Dear Winnebago Community members,

I would like to give my heart felt thanks to all who came out to my farewell powwow on Memorial Day weekend! Thanks to all those who planned the event, provided food, helped set-up and clean-up... Special thanks to Tunny Cleveland (head man dancer) and Anna Berridge (head woman dancer) and Randy DeCora for MC'ing. Thank you for the beautiful star quilt, which will always serve as a reminder of the wonderful 13 years I had there!

I am very grateful to all the people who made my time there so blessed by welcoming me, sharing your culture and teachings, and allowing me to help form and educate your children!

May God bless each and everyone of you!

To The Editor...

This is a response to the Giago opinion piece "Settlers forced shame on America's indigenous peoples" on the front page of the June 15, 2016 WIN.

If the question bothering Giago all his life is a sincere one, maybe he should look into the truth of historical Christianity, not the "shameful" parody of a religion depicted in his piece that no one would willingly choose. He might find, as I did, that there is truth in the person of Jesus Christ, and even in some of those who call themselves his followers. True Christianity also recognizes truth where ever it exists, it does not call something false just because it feels foreign or 'makes you feel bad' for your sins. If they are truly sins to be avoided, shouldn't we be ashamed of them?

Isn't it your experience that believers of any stripe clumsily try to shame us in order to exercise some kind of power over us? (Shame is a powerful weapon, as we see every day on social media!) I've been shamed in this way both by clumsy Christians and by clumsy traditional indigenous believers. It feels the same, no matter where it comes from. There is a big difference between shaming someone (destructive and controlling) and calling them to repentance (constructive and respectful). The latter acknowledges one's dignity and ability to recognize a harmful act and change one's mind using loving persuasion.

The remedy is not to throw religious truth-seeking aside altogether (as so many in the baby-boom generation have demanded we do) but to develop a keen and grown-up sense of spiritual discernment. This can only be done at the feet of the truly wise and loving and experienced, be they Christian or traditional indigenous.

Refrigerant Poisoning
 Refrigerant poisoning happens when someone is exposed to the chemicals used to cool appliances. Refrigerant contains chemicals called fluorinated hydrocarbons (often referred to by a common brand name, "Freon"). Freon is a tasteless, mostly odorless gas. When it is deeply inhaled, it can cut off vital oxygen to your cells and lungs.

Limited exposure, for example, a spill on your skin or breathing near an open container, is only mildly harmful. However, you should try to avoid all contact with these types of chemicals. Even small amounts can cause symptoms. Inhaling these fumes on purpose to "get high" can be very dangerous. It can be fatal even the very first time you do it. Regularly inhaling high concentrations of Freon can cause issues such as:

- breathing problems
- fluid buildup in the lungs
- organ damage
- sudden death

What are the Symptoms of Refrigerant Poisoning?

Mild exposure to refrigerants is generally harmless. Poisoning is rare except in cases of abuse or exposure in a confined space. Symptoms of mild to moderate poisoning include:

- irritation of the eyes, ears, and throat
- headache
- nausea
- vomiting
- frostbite (liquid Freon)
- cough
- chemical burn to the skin
- dizziness

Symptoms of severe poisoning include:

- fluid buildup or bleeding in the lungs
- burning sensation in the esophagus
- vomiting up blood
- decreased mental status
- difficult, labored breathing
- irregular heartbeat
- loss of consciousness
- seizures

Recreational Use: Getting High (Huffing)

Refrigerant abuse is commonly called "huffing." The chemical is often inhaled from an appliance, a container, a rag, or a bag with the neck held tightly closed. The products are inexpensive, easy to find, and easy to hide. The chemicals produce a pleasurable feeling by depressing the central nervous system. When inhaled, it's similar to the feeling caused by drinking alcohol or taking sedatives, along with lightheadedness and hallucinations. The high only lasts a few minutes, so people who use these inhalants often inhale repeatedly to make the feeling last longer.

What Are the Signs of Abuse?

Chronic abusers of inhalants might have a mild rash around the nose and mouth. Other signs include:

- watery eyes
- slurred speech
- drunken appearance
- excitability
- sudden weight loss
- chemical smells on the clothing or breath
- paint stains on the clothing, face, or hands
- lack of coordination
- hidden empty spray cans
- or rags soaked in chemicals

Along with rapid "high," and a feeling of euphoria, the chemicals found in these types of inhalants produce many negative effects on the body. These can include:

- lightheadedness
- hallucinations
- delusions
- agitation
- nausea and vomiting
- lethargy
- muscle weakness
- depressed reflexes
- loss of sensation
- unconsciousness

Even first-time users can experience devastating consequences. A condition known as "sudden sniffing death" can occur in healthy people the very first time they inhale refrigerant. The highly concentrated chemicals can lead to irregular and rapid heart rhythms. This can then lead to heart failure within minutes. Death can also occur due to asphyxiation, suffocation, seizures, or choking. You may also get into a fatal accident if you drive while intoxicated.

Some of the chemicals found in inhalants stick around in the body for a long period of time. They attach easily to fat molecules and can be stored in the fatty tissue. The buildup of poison can damage vital organs, including your liver and brain. The buildup can also create a physical dependence (addiction). Regular or long-term abuse may also result in:

- weight loss
- loss of strength or coordination
- irritability
- depression
- psychosis
- rapid, irregular heart beat
- lung damage
- nerve damage
- brain damage
- death

What Is the Outlook For Refrigerant Poisoning?

Recovery depends on how quickly you get medical help. Huffing refrigerant chemicals can result in significant brain and lung damage. The effects vary from person to person. This damage is not reversible even after the person stops abusing inhalants. Sudden death can occur with refrigerant abuse, even the very first time.

Preventing Accidental Refrigerant Poisoning

Inhaling chemicals to get high is common in the United States because such chemicals are legal and easy to find. Inhalant use among adolescents has been declining over the years. However, nearly 40,000 adolescents use inhalants on any given day.

Preventing Abuse

To help prevent abuse, limit access to these chemicals by keeping containers out of reach of children and attaching a lock to the appliances that use them. It's also very important to educate.

Communicate with your children about the risks of using drugs and alcohol. Don't pretend that the risks don't exist or assume that your child couldn't possibly do drugs. Be sure to reiterate that huffing can lead to death the very first time it's done.

If you are with someone you think has poisoning, quickly move the victim to fresh air to avoid further problems from prolonged exposure. Once the person has been moved, call your local Police Department to dispatch EMS (402)878-2294 or the National Poison Control Hotline at 1-800-222-1222.

Checklist for a Healthy and Safe Summer Break

Use this safety checklist to help keep your children in good health while they have fun this summer.

___ Refillable water bottles. Children should drink 12 ounces of cool water or a sports drink before they head out to play. And they should take water breaks during games. If your children go to camp or play on a team, make sure they refill their water bottle several times a day.

___ First aid kit. Keep a first aid kit in your home, in your car, and bring one with you on vacation. Keep first aid kits someplace where you can reach them, but the children can't.

___ Sun protection. Get wide-brimmed hats, sunglasses, and cotton clothes that cover your child's skin to reduce exposure to the sun's damaging rays.

___ Sunscreen. Use a broad-spectrum sunscreen with at least 30 SPF every day for kids older than 6 months. (It's best to keep babies out of the sun). Reapply after swimming, sweating, or after more than 2 hours in the sun.

___ Helmet. Before your children ride away on a bike, scooter, or other set of wheels, make sure they're wearing a well-fitting helmet.

___ Protective sports gear. If your children play team sports, make sure they have appropriate gear. Depending on the sport, this may include a mouth guard, face mask, helmet, pads, and shoes made specifically for the surface your child will play on.

___ Safety plan. Before your children head out to play, agree on a safety plan that includes how they can reach you and what to do in an emergency.

___ Bug spray. If ticks or mosquitoes are common in your area, apply repellent with DEET, but go for the lowest concentration that will work for as long as you need it to. Repellent with 10% DEET is effective for about 2 hours, while 30% DEET works for about 5 hours. Do not apply a spray with high concentration of DEET more than once a day. Oil of lemon eucalyptus can also protect against mosquitoes.

___ Poison ivy prevention. Poison ivy soap can break down proteins that make poison ivy or poison oak so irritating. Also, keep calamine lotion on hand to use on skin that breaks out in an itchy rash.

___ Antihistamine. Summer grass, weeds, and flowers may trigger summer allergies. An over-the-counter antihistamine can ease your child's scratchy throat and runny nose if allergies are a problem.

___ Car safety. To minimize the risk of a child getting trapped in a hot vehicle leave a purse, briefcase, or cell phone in the back seat. That way, you get in the habit of checking in the back seat before leaving the vehicle. Ask your child's daycare to call you if the child doesn't show up as expected. Always lock your car and trunk, even parked in the driveway at home, and always keep keys and fobs out of the reach of little ones.

THE STORIES OF OUR CHILDREN

The stories are told through children's experiences while attending summer school. The children will tell us about themselves, their families, their experiences, and how they feel. Let's start out with the 7-12 grade class room.

Mr. Kotter: Good morning everyone. My name is Mr. Kotter. I'm not from here but I am very glad to be here. I know some of you are very private so I don't want to make you tell me everything about yourself, so let's just start with names, a little about your family, why you are here this summer, and what you want to learn.

Hawk: My name is George but everyone calls me Hawk. I'm here cause my math grades need to be improved. My mom said if I get an A in algebra she and my dad will take us to Valley Fair. So I really wanna to get an A.

Marisa: My name is Marisa. I'm the oldest in the family and really needed to get out of the house, just kidding. No, but I'm here cause I want to get as many credits as I can so I can graduate early and go somewhere, in the army or to college.

Mike: My name is Mike. I'm here cause my grandma said I have to be here. I missed a lot of school last year, because...no never mind.

Shelly: Hi, I'm Shelly. I'm Mike's sister and yes, we live with our grandma. Our parents were killed in a car accident two years ago and we came to live her then. I really like living with her and she teaches us about a lot of things. I was kinda having it hard with being new in school, this year is a lot better but I still need to make up some work from last year.

Other kids go on to introduce themselves in the class of 16. Mr. Kotter then hands out lesson plans for each, a questionnaire about the types of field trips they want to take, other ideas they might have for classroom activities and their day begins. He wants the class to pair up as they talk about field trips. George and Mike pair up together.

Now we move to Ms. Greengrass' class. She is the summer school teacher for 3rd grade through 6th grade. She tells the children she is Native also and flat out tells them she expects their respect. But, she also knows that to children this age respect is just a word. She tells them she went to college so she could be a teacher. It was a lot of work for her, she had to work a job and study at night, and it was hard, but she did it because she thought of all of her little relatives and how she would teach them if she ever got the chance.

Ms. Greengrass says that is the respect she wants the children to show her. It is you appreciate how hard I worked to be able to stand up and teach you. You appreciate the times I just didn't sit in front of the tv, but studied. You appreciate the times I was tired but went to work anyway. One form of respect is to realize what someone has done or accomplished and treat them with honor and kindness- if you really do appreciate the work they have done and try to learn from them.

She tells them to appreciate the knowledge our elders have, what they have experienced through the years, and what they try to share with us-things they have learned about how hard it might be to live in the white man's world, or any world-but to never forget who you really are. But she tells them not to worry because we'll work on it some more. We are Native people and to me that's what makes us strong and willing to work hard.

OKAY, now because we are Native I want you to introduce yourself and tell me who your parents, grandparents, and great-grandparents are, go back as far as you can but it's okay if you don't know-really! Because that's some of what I want to help you learn and why as, a Native woman, I am here for you! Mrs. Greengrass goes through the exercise and finds only 1 child in 18 knows their ancestry past their grandparents.

Mrs. Rasmussen's class is the first through third grade. She starts out by introducing herself and telling everyone about how her family has been farming for three generations. She says she grew up around here and went to school with lots of Indians. Everyone has to sit in their assigned seats and work begins right away.

The day is short and most of children are happy to be there, but also happy to go home. Shelly really likes Mr. Kotter, she goes home and tells her grandma all about school and her new teacher. Kunu Mike is still quiet and goes in his room to play video games. After dinner, Shelly and Mike are outside shooting hoops. She can tell something is really wrong with her brother and asks him "Please tell me what's going on- I know something is bothering you." At first he doesn't answer, then puts the ball down sits on it and tells her "I don't feel right here and I think it would be easier for grandma if I just left."

Hello!

My name is Garan Coons and I am the new Communications and Public Relations Officer for the Winnebago Tribe. My office is located in the Blackhawk Center next to the Post Office. Some of my duties in the position include spearheading media relations, internal/external communications, social media management and training, special event management, and advising Tribal Council on all media and communications affairs.

Just to tell you a little about myself, I grew up in Winnebago and have the best of memories. Our family drum group; Ho-Chunk Singers used to travel the circuit extensively throughout powwow country. I graduated from Winnebago Public School and earned a scholarship to go to Wayne State College. While at Wayne State College I earned a Bachelor's of Science Degree with a concentration in Graphic Design in 2004. In the working field I was the Marketing Director for Woodland Trails Art Retail and Learning Center and taught courses at Little Priest Tribal College as well as Nebraska Indian Community College.

I look forward to meeting with the Winnebago Tribal Departments as well as Tribal Members to discuss a communications plan so that we can disseminate key information to our audiences. I am very excited to work in this capacity as the Winnebago Tribe moves forward in a positive and impactful future.

overall patient wait times and offer more services at night and on weekends. At Pine Ridge IHS Hospital, for example, at least 21 nurses and 10 medical support assistants currently serving in the Emergency Department will be shifted to other hospital outpatient clinics. With these staffing changes, Pine Ridge IHS Hospital will offer -- for the first time -- services on Saturday, with clinics running from noon to midnight. The hours of the existing Sunday clinic at Pine Ridge IHS Hospital will also be expanded by seven hours beyond the current hours and will now run from noon to midnight, as well. At Omaha Winnebago IHS Hospital a doctor, nurses and a medical support assistant will also be assigned to other departments to improve services and decrease patient wait times. A schedule of expanded clinic hours at that facility is not yet available.

While IHS has often contracted with health professionals to address staffing challenges in the past, the contract announced today requires the vendor to provide all appropriate department management as well as clinical staffing. The contractor will provide a physician to serve as the full time Director of each Emergency Department and other management services. It is estimated that approximately half of U.S. emergency departments utilize contracted physician practice management.

On April 30, IHS signed Systems Improvement Agreements with the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, another part of the U.S. government, which requires that in the short-term IHS obtain the services of an Emergency Department medical group contractor for Pine Ridge Hospital and for Rosebud Hospital. The Systems Improvement Agreements strengthen the foundation for immediate and long-term quality improvements at Pine Ridge and Rosebud Hospitals.

In addition to efforts to add contract staff in Emergency Departments, IHS has a number of ongoing efforts to improve staffing across the IHS system. Last week, IHS requested proposals for enhanced telehealth services in the Great Plains enabling more clinical appointments to be provided remotely. Additionally, IHS has eliminated a number of administrative impediments to health professional staff recruitment across the IHS system, including securing approval to offer additional relocation benefits for qualified job candidates as well as more pay for some health providers so that salaries at IHS are more competitive. For example, IHS has established a new Title 38 special salary pay table for Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetists, which allows for more competitive salaries for this critical nursing specialty.

IHS, in conjunction with the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, announced on May 13 an additional partnership to strengthen the quality of care, with IHS hospitals receiving assistance from a CMS-supported Hospital Engagement Network.

The IHS Great Plains Area serves 130,000 patients in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and North Dakota by operating 16 federal government facilities and funding the operations of 17 tribally operated health facilities. Review the IHS Principal Deputy Director's recent briefing on Great Plains Area operations.

The IHS, an agency in the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, provides a comprehensive health service delivery system for approximately 2.2 million American Indians and Alaska Natives.

Community Notices

Winnebago Housing And Development Commission

Lease Obligation: Annual Inspections are required, as stated in the tenant's lease. Resident Services is responsible for conducting the annual housekeeping inspection. A Maintenance staff is also present to inspect the structural items. Resident Services is authorized to send a letter to the tenant, which gives the tenants four days notice. The inspection is not a "white glove" type of inspection. The inspection's purpose is to ensure that the units are maintained in a safe and sanitary condition. Leaving trash bags by the door instead of quickly into the outside trash container can lead to roaches and rodents. Failure to keep the stove clean and free of food and grease can lead to a fire. We appreciate tenants who are clean and orderly and we struggle with those who may not have learned basic housekeeping practices. The goal is for our tenants to be safe and for the units to be taken care of.

Renovation on Sunrise Drive – There was only one bid received in mid-April from a contractor. HUD requires a second publication seeking bids. There are now three contractors interested which is good news. Hopefully we'll be able to select a contractor and move to the actual construction work in July.

Sewer System – Repairs – This is a reminder. Do not flush "disposable wipes", feminine products, baby wipes or Q-tips down the toilet. In spite of the advertising on tv, the flushable wipes often clog the sewer line. The service provided by Speedy Rooter or Rotor Rooter can cost from $500 to $1000, depending on the location of the clog. These items are often the cause of the blockage. Since this type of blockage is NOT the result of system breakdown or malfunction, the tenant will be charged for the specialist's repairs. Thank you for your cooperation.

Re-Certification of Tenant Lease: Ann Sailors, new Occupancy Specialist, has been diligently working on re-certifications. HUD requires the re-certification to ensure that qualified/eligible individuals and families continue to resident in NAHASDA-supported housing. We appreciate the cooperation of those families who have responded to Ann's letter of notification. Each year auditors review tenant files to verify that the re-certification is done and all mandatory documents are in the files.

Homeownership: Congratulations to a tribal member who recently received approval of a home loan from Bank2 of Oklahoma!

Summer Volunteers: The week of July 10, 13 students from St. Mary's of Omaha will be in Winnebago doing outside work for the housing program. They will be assisting in trimming trees, shrubs, and getting one 4-bedroom unit ready for painting. Welcome to the students of St. Mary's.

Thank You All

Thanks to everyone for your thoughts, prayers and continued support during my recent illness. I hate to start listing names, don't wanna forget no one, but your help is very much appreciated, and y'all know you are going to Heaven...too.

I may be a little shorter, and a bit slower, but I'm feeling like $100, well, $150, and it sure feels good.

Again, Thank You, and Creator Bless each and everyone of you.

Y Fitness Schedule for July (starts 7/1/16 – 7/27/16) We will not be open 7/4/16 (Tribal Holiday)

Due to the increasing incidences happening at the Whirling Thunder Wellness Center, I have provided a review of a few of our policies and procedures. Our goal is to provide a safe environment where people can come and use the facility without harassment or bullying.

Profanity, bullying, or name-calling will not be tolerated. If a participant refuse to change their behavior after one warning, they will be removed from the activity for one week. Adult behavior is subjected to this policy when participating in or attending a WTWP activity. The severity of the incident will be evaluated by staff who witnessed the incident and consultation will take place with the Supervisor(s). Parents and children have the right to file an incident report on both children and other adult behavior. The parents of each respective child or parents will be called in for a meeting to discuss the incident and come to a reasonable solution. If the behavior continues and future incidents occur, more serious actions will be deemed necessary and a decision will be made by the Supervisor(s) as to what that will be.

A "fight" will be defined as kicking, punching, pushing, slapping, etc. between 2 or more participants mutually engaged in this behavior. The police department will be notified to come investigate and file a report on the incident. This should be considered a serious incident and a suspension from the facility will occur. The person that started the fight will be removed and suspended. Adult behavior is subject to this policy when participating in a WTWP activity. Penalty is automatic restriction from the use and participation of our services and equipment for a period of six (6) months.

All WTWP staff, activities, and program events must be alcohol and drug free. If a patron(s) participating in or attending a WTWP activity or event is suspected of or found to be intoxicated they will be asked to leave the premises. If the "suspect" patron refuses to cooperate, police will be contacted immediately. "Suspected of" is in reference to having the odor of behavior of being intoxicated with alcohol, marijuana, or chemical substances. If the "suspect" patron causes any violent incident such as a fight, the "suspect" patron will be asked to leave the premises and the police will be contacted immediately. If any WTWP staff is suspected of being intoxicated, the Winnebago Tribe Policies & Procedures will be strictly adhered to.
