The Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska's Tribal Health Department Receives Funding to Explore National Public Health Accreditation

Winnebago, Nebraska (October 1, 2017) The Winnebago Tribal Health Department has been awarded $4000 to explore the requirements of the Public Health Accreditation Board (PHAB), the first and only voluntary national accreditation program for public health departments. The Winnebago Tribal Health Department is one of 13 Tribes to receive funding in this cycle through the Tribal Accreditation Support Initiative (ASI) administered by the National Indian Health Board (NIHB). Funding for the Tribal ASI is provided by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Office for State, Tribal, Local, and Territorial Support (CDC). "I'm very excited to be exploring the options of Public Health Accreditation and the positive outcomes that will come out of this process," said Mona Zuffante, Health Director. The Winnebago Tribal Health Department will use the grant to participate in a public health accreditation training along with other Tribal health departments from across the country, conduct a public health system self-assessment to determine strengths and gaps in the 12 domains of public health accreditation and to develop a work plan based upon the self-assessment. "We are grateful to have received the Tribal Accreditation Support Initiative funding from the CDC and NIHB as this will enable us to build capacity within the Health Department and help set us on a course for public health improvement and make progress to build better health outcomes for the people in our community," said Linæe Bigfire, Accreditation Coordinator. For more information, including a full list of Tribal awardees, can be found at <http://nihb.org/tribalasi/index.php>, and for more information about the local Tribal program, please contact Karrie Joseph at kjoseph@nihb.org, or 202-507-4070. About the Winnebago Tribal Health Department Twelve (12) Public Law 93-638 Health Programs of the Winnebago Tribe fall under a Master Health Contract and is administered by the Winnebago Tribal Health Administrator. Indianz.com... Harvard Quietly Recognizes Indigenous Peoples' Day on Calendar

Damon J. Clark '17 speaks at the Indigenous Peoples' Day event in 2016. The event's purpose was to celebrate Indigenous cultures as well as to encourage supporters to sign a petition urging the University to acknowledge Indigenous Peoples' Day. ANNIE E. SCHUGART Harvard has quietly adjusted its calendar to recognize the second Monday in October as both Columbus Day and Indigenous Peoples' Day, reflecting a move by the City of Cambridge to rename the holiday last year. Still, some Native American students say they want the University to formally renounce Columbus Day, arguing that the Italian explorer should not be celebrated. Last June, the Cambridge City Council unanimously agreed to change the name of the holiday to Indigenous Peoples' Day. Nadeem A. Mazen, the Cambridge city councillor who proposed the city's renaming of the holiday, said the move was intended to reclaim the day for Native Americans killed after Columbus's landing in the Americas. "At a basic level, we're saying 'no' to a day named after someone who was a tyrant, and was a torturer, and was a destroyer of Indigenous people, to turn this around and to honor those people

JESUS OUR SAVIOR LUTHERAN OUTREACH

Pastor Ricky Jacob

"Fear Yahweh, walk, love and serve Him"

Do you consider yourself a God-fearing man/woman or child? I read somewhere that Christians are often viewed as people who 'go to church to talk about God.' Sadly there is a lot of truth in this observation. A so-called Christian man, woman or child lives much like those around them.

There appears to be no difference between their behaviors, their words, their actions than others who do not claim to believe in or follow Jesus as their Lord or Savior. As a matter of fact, the integrity, honesty, hospitality of those who have no faith in Jesus, appears to be better. However, there is no one who can claim perfection. All have rebelled against Creator God and should humbly fear Him.

Fallen man's lack of integrity, honesty, and hospitality should be no reflection on Creator God. Creator God is holy. Creator God is love. Creator God is truth. Creator God is hospitable. Creator God fulfills His promises.

I have used 'Yahweh' the Hebrew name for Creator God in the title of my article. Yahweh was the name that Creator God gave to Moses when asked. It is impossible to translate Yahweh exactly using mere words. An imperfect translation would be "I am who I am." Creator God is eternal, who was, who is and who is to come. Yahweh is the God of the living, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob [Israel].

Creator God revealed Himself to the tribe of Israel. Yahweh spoke to them through Moses. Moses was seeking to have the tribe of Israel renew their covenant pledge of faithfulness to Yahweh. "And now, Israel, what does Yahweh your God require of you, but to fear Yahweh your God, to walk in all his ways, to love him, to serve Yahweh your God with all your heart and with all your soul, and to keep the commandments and statutes of Yahweh, which I am commanding you today for your good? [Deuteronomy 10:12-13]

Moses plea is not a one day a week kind of lifestyle, a Sabbath day or Sunday way of living. As Creator God watches over, provides and protects 24-7 so too the children of Israel are to fear Yahweh, walk or live in all His ways, love and serve Him 24-7. Put another way: one is to walk in God's ways (physically) with all one's heart (emotional), and with all one's soul (spiritual). Creator God expects no less from you today.

If you are honest you would have to admit that you have failed to live up to Creator God's commands, His demands to be holy or without sin. Where you and I have failed there is one and only one who has fulfilled these sacred expectations. It is none other than the only begotten Son of Yahweh. His name is Jesus [or in Hebrew: Yeshua], and His very name means 'God saves.'

Jesus fulfilled the demands of His heavenly Father. You would have thought that he would have been well received by his tribal people. No, they falsely accused him and demanded that he be crucified. Jesus took their sin and the sin of the world upon himself as he hung on the cross, cursed by Creator God. Jesus, with His sacred blood, paid fully the sin of the whole world. The wages of sin is death, but the gift of Creator God is everlasting life through faith in Jesus!

Creator God extends His hospitality each day to His throne of God as He welcomes the prayers of those who trust in His Son's saving grace. Creator God invites people of every tribe, language, and nation to gather together and receive the gifts He offers through the proclamation of His Sacred Word. Creator God graciously places His Sacred Name, Father, Son and Holy Spirit upon children of all ages, washes away their sin and promises to be faithful to them. Creator God pronounces His forgiveness upon all those who humbly admit their failure to fulfill His commands and seek His mercy.

Filled with the Holy Spirit, the faithful child of Creator God bears the fruit of love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. In other words, he (she) honors Creator God with his (her) life.

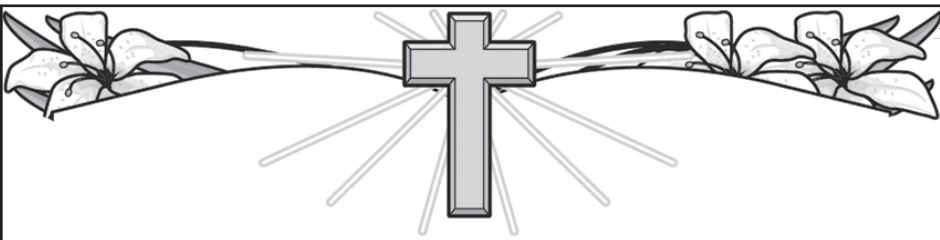

Thereby Christians should be viewed by those around them as those people who have by grace received the gifts that Creator God offered each week in one of His Houses of worship, and then honors Creator God with his (her) life.

without saying anything bad about other people," Mazen said.

Ashley N. Hamilton '20, a member of the Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska and vice president of Native Americans at Harvard College, echoed Mazen. "It's a celebration of our survival in that we're still here, thriving, even though it's not really known," she said of the renamed holiday.

Hamilton said she would like the University to put out an official statement recognizing Indigenous Peoples' Day. "We were not talked to," she said.

A Harvard spokesperson wrote in an email that the Faculty of Arts and Sciences updated the wording on its calendar to include both holidays in accordance with federal and Cambridge parameters and declined to comment further.

Native Americans at Harvard College has advocated for official recognition of Indigenous Peoples' Day by the University for years, according to Truman M. Burrage '19, the club's president and a member of the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma.

Burrage said the group sent a letter and signed petition to University President Drew G. Faust and a number of other administrators last year, along with a petition. The Undergraduate Council endorsed the petition last year.

The group will hold an event in the Yard Monday to celebrate indigenous culture and demonstrate against the name Columbus Day.

WIN Files...

The following article was taken from the November 14, 1980 issue of the Winnebago Indian News. Donnna Vandall was the editor.

“The Chairman’s View”

by Reuben A. Snake, Jr.

“Ridin’ the Gravy Train” is an old cliché meaning working at a soft job with good pay. Many people in the Tribal Organization seem to have that feeling about their jobs. These people are those who drink to excess and don’t show up at least one day a week for work. When they show up they punch-in and disappear. They have at least twenty (20) sick leave and annual leave slips in their personnel file for the past six (6) month period. They take advantage of every opportunity for “travel” to whatever conference or convention they can legitimately find a reason to attend. They draw mileage for every 10th of a mile they can document. They take “comp time” for every after hours meeting they attend, even if it’s only a half-hour and they didn’t make any significant contributions. These “Gravy Train Riders” are going to get derailed because our tribal organization is going places and we don’t want any more “Free Loaders.” We can’t afford them!

Have a Coke and a Smile...

Two Omahas boarded a flight out of Omaha. One sat in the window seat; and the other in the middle seat. Just before takeoff a Winnebago got on and took the aisle seat next to the two Omahas. The Winnebago kicked off his moccasins, wiggled his toes and was settling in when the Omaha in the window seat said, “I think I’ll get up and get a Coke.” “No problem,” said the Winnebago, “I’m in the aisle seat, I’ll get it for you!” While he was gone, one of the Omahas picked up the Winnebago’s moccasin and spit in it. When he returned with the Coke, the other Omaha said, “That looks good, I think I’ll have one too.” Again, the Winnebago said, “Not a problem” and while he was gone the other Omaha picked up the other moccasin and spit in it. The Winnebago returned and they all sat back and enjoyed the rest of the flight. As the plane was landing, the Winnebago slipped his feet into his moccasins and knew immediately what had happened. “My brothers, how long must this go on?” he asked. “This fighting between our tribes? This Hatred? This animosity? This spitting in moccasins and peeing in Cokes?”
