Winnebago Indians call themselves "Hochunkgra." A Siouan people, they once occupied the southern half of Wisconsin and the northern counties of Illinois. The Black Hawk War of 1832 and a series of treaties forced the Winnebago out of their homeland, and they were removed to reservations in Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, and finally to a portion of the Omaha Reservation in Nebraska.

COVID-19 Temporary Curfew Order Goes Into Effect for Winnebago

Winnebago Tribal Council orders 7:00 pm to 5 am COVID-19 Temporary Curfew. Here is a picture of Winnebago shortly after the 7:00 pm siren sounded on Wednesday, April 15, 2020 turning Winnebago into a ghost town. Stay home Stay Safe!

Winonah Leader Charge

Numerous tribes across the nation have initiated the implementation of curfews within their communities. Implementing curfews is a proactive approach to protecting and combating against the Coronavirus. Fortunately, there has been no cases of COVID-19 in the Winnebago community, although there has been confirmed COVID-19 cases in neighboring communities.

A temporary curfew order enacted by the Winnebago Tribal Council went into effect April 15 from 7:00 pm to 5:00 am daily. According to the resolution, "The Winnebago Tribal Council finds this Temporary Curfew Order necessary to minimize in-person interaction, which is the primary means of transmission of COVID-19. This order will remain in effect no longer than necessary to ensure that COVID-19 no longer poses a public health threat."

Read the full ordinance at winnebago.tribe.com. There are many questions about the newly established Curfew Order. Winnebago Indian News asked Shelia Corbine of Big Fire Law Firm to answer some of these questions.

Q: Is there exceptions to being out past curfew?

A: There are exceptions to be out during curfew hours. If you are an essential employee (Police, Fire, Health worker, Human Services) you may be out during the curfew times if your work necessitates it. However, even essential employees engaging in essential travel or working are encouraged to practice safety standards such as wearing a mask and observing the six-foot social distancing recommendations.

Essential travel is also excepted and includes any travel related to the provision of or access to health care services, travel to care for elderly, minors, dependents, persons with disabilities or other vulnerable persons, travel from a place of residence on the Reservation to employment outside of the Reservation and return; and travel required by law enforcement or court order which may include transport of children pursuant to a custody agreement.

Q: What happens if a community member violates the Curfew Order?

A: There is an enforcement provision of the Curfew Order. Law enforcement will be allowed some discretion in handling potential violations of the Order, starting with a warning. Continued violations will result in civil fines of increasing severity depending on the number of times the Order is violated. If there is a continued failure to abide by the Curfew Order, law enforcement has the option to charge somebody with "Failure to Obey" under the Tribe's criminal code.

Lastly, Corbine added that "the Tribal Council is being very proactive in keeping their membership as safe as they can during this health emergency. It is hoped that the coronavirus will not affect the community at all, but the limiting of travel and interpersonal contact, even during just the curfew hours, goes a long way toward the virus infecting members in the community. Once the Tribal Council determines that COVID-19 is no longer a public health threat then the Temporary Curfew Order will be lifted."

The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly of the Upcoming Stimulus

Winnebago Tribal Chairman, Coly Brown is not painting or working construction instead he is running a Winnebago Tribal Council Meeting wearing a face mask. The Winnebago Public Health Department is now urging all community members to wear a cloth face cover as a precaution towards COVID-19 or as Chairman Brown would say "The Rona".

Winonah Leader Charge

Winnebago, NE. – The much-anticipated stimulus payout from the U.S. government, prompted by the COVID-19 pandemic, will begin in Mid-April according to the IRS website. These payments are intended to financially assist Americans with short-term costs such as rent, utilities, or groceries.

Winnebago Tribal Chairman, Coly Brown recommends the community to spend their stimulus money wisely. The council is concerned when tribal members receive their stimulus, they will be tempted to leave the community and expose themselves to the COVID-19 virus. It is advised to stay at home and continue practicing social distancing. "If anything, hold-on to your money until Winnavegas re-opens" Chairman Brown said Jokingly. Money spent within the community will benefit the local economy.

Now the bad, IRS warns about scams. Our elders are at high risk to be scammed. Scammers claiming to be the IRS have begun deceiving unsuspecting people through mail, social media, phone calls, email and text messages. These are attempts to steal stimulus payments. The IRS website states, "... be on the lookout for scam artists trying to use the economic impact payments as cover for schemes to steal personal information and money. Remember, the IRS will not call, text you, email you or contact you on social media asking for personal or bank account information..."

The ugly, unfortunately there are enablers and self-seekers within the community that will take advantage of unsuspecting tribal members who are receiving a stimulus payout.

Jason Lawrence the Winnebago Chief of Police advises community members to protect their money by keeping it in their bank account. This will allow community members to keep track of their money and how it is being spent. Lawrence also mentions there is video surveillance at local businesses in event of money being stolen. Lastly, he stated if there are any concerns to contact the Winnebago Police Department.

If anyone has questions about the stimulus payment refer to the IRS website www.irs.gov.

Thurston County Democratic Party to Hold Phone Convention to Select County Officers and State Convention Delegates

The Thurston County Democratic Party will hold its convention on May 17, 2020 at 2:00 via phone to elect officers and delegates to the Nebraska Democratic Party state convention.

The county and state conventions are being done via phone this year due to the coronavirus.

Registered Democrats are encouraged to participate in their county convention and run for a delegate position to the state and national conventions.

Democrats must register to attend their county convention by May 1, 2020. All the details and online registration form are on the NDP's website: <https://nebraskademocrats.org/blog/convention/>

"We had to make adjustments, but everyone pitched in to make this happen," said County Party Chair Danelle Smith. We really want voters to send in their requests to vote by mail and check out the Thurston County Democrats Facebook page for updates during this election cycle."

Said NDP Chair Jane Kleeb: "County parties are the foundation for us to keep building the state party and winning elections. While we will miss seeing everyone at the local conventions this year, we encourage Democrats to register for their county convention to have a voice in local and state leadership. Your local county chair volunteers year-round to build a party for 'We the people' and we are proud to stand with them."

Local Seamstress Called to Action

Winnebago, NE – A month ago if someone wore a surgical face mask into the local grocery store people would turn their heads wondering what was wrong with that person. Today, if you don't wear a mask in public people turn their heads with the underline thought, gee that person must not care for our elders.

The COVID-19 Pandemic will forever change the way we live, think, and now even how we dress in public. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention now recommends that people wear cloth or fabric face coverings to help prevent the spread of COVID-19.

Therese St.Cyr, who is a retired laboratory director from the Winnebago Hospital and a lifelong seamstress was called to action by the Winnebago community. "In the past few weeks I have made over 150 masks and sent them to Michigan, South Dakota, and Wisconsin. At first I made a few just to give away then recently I have been flooded with requests. A nurse from the Twelve Clans Unity Hospital ordered 20 because she wanted to give some to her co-workers and patients." said St.Cyr.

The style of masks that are being produced by Therese adhere to the CDC guidelines and also have a cool native flare.

"A few members of the Winnebago Tribal Council grabbed some of my masks I made. I'm not out to make money but it does require time to cut the patterns and sew them together. The main thing is everyone is protected and staying safe. I know there are a lot of other sewers in the community that are probably working day and night as well" said Therese.

During this pandemic a mask or face cover will be the new normal, just like wearing gloves during the winter, a sweater when it's chilly, and shorts when it's hot. It will take some getting used to but one must always think that they are protecting our elders. In the words of Chairman Brown "Let's do our part".

Winnebago Progressive In Getting Building Projects Completed

Winonah Leader Charge

Ron Nohr the Winnebago Tribal Engineer mentioned COVID-19 has had a minimal impact on delaying construction projects in the community. These scheduled projects will continue to move forward for the Spring and the Summer. Coly Brown the Winnebago Chairman stated we are pushing and continuing with business as much as we can. We always want to do more for our people. After a project we ask ourselves what more can we do for our community and tribal members?

Among the projects that have begun or will soon begin are:

The Halfway House Project is anticipated to begin May 1st, 2020. This project consists of demolishing and disposing of the 100-year-old wood framed house. In addition, an environmental company will be testing and removing asbestos. The end result will be a newly built two story halfway house. While under construction, the renovated Smith House will provide temporary housing for existing clientele.

The Human Services department's interior is being renovated into new office space anticipated to be completed in June.

Debris from the Senior Apartment Complex that was destroyed in a fire will be loaded into semi-trucks and transported to the landfill. Construction on the new Senior Apartment Complex will begin this Summer.

A road, driveways and sidewalks have been constructed in the Route 17 mobile homes. Fencing around the mobile home park has also been installed.

Grading at Ho-Chunk Village 2.0 was recently completed. Installation of underground utilities and seeding will take place in April and May.

Work on an $8.6 million paving project began April 1. Construction has begun South of town by Ho-Chunk Village and will continue through town by the Twelve Clans hospital. This project also includes constructing a roundabout at the intersection of U.S. 75 and St. Augustine Drive.

Patching asphalt that was damaged from flooding on BIA Route 17 will take place this construction season.

Winnebago's three water booster stations will be repaired and improved this construction season.

All sanitary sewers will be cleaned, inspected and filmed this construction season.

Roland Warner the Winnebago Treasurer said Despite the disruptions of the COVID-19 the Winnebago Tribe is doing everything they can to push forward to meet the needs of the community and tribal members.

I hope we can continue this great accomplishment in the years to come.

NEW VISITOR RESTRICTIONS

Due to COVID-19 concerns and to comply with CDC guidelines, Twelve Clans Unity Hospital and the Winnebago Public Health Department must take steps to reduce the risk of exposure in our community. Although there are currently no confirmed cases of COVID-19 in our local area, the fewer people with whom our patients come into contact, the less likely they will be to contract COVID-19 or other infectious diseases.

For this reason, we are implementing visitor restrictions for all areas. Effective immediately and until further notice, NO VISITORS are allowed in the healthcare facility. In the case of a minor or person with limited ability to understand or communicate, only one accompanying adult is allowed. In that case, the individual must be:

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WINNEBAGO HOUSING AND DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

The WHDC Board approved rent relief for the month of April for all tenants in low-income rental units. A two page news-letter was mailed to all rental tenants; many tenants did not pick up their mail. Follow up required by HUD: bring your employers' letter which informed you that you were laid-off or furloughed due to the COVID 19 Pandemic. It documents your eligibility for rent relief. When you are determined to be eligible for Unemployment Compensation, please bring that in also. This will support any further rent adjustment. The WHDC remains open, only through the south side of the building. When you call the office to request a work order, you will be asked a few questions before you relate the need for a work order. Be advised that only serious emergency work will be done. A list was included in the last newsletter. There are no confirmations of COVID 19 in Winnebago. Please maintain the social distancing, especially when you go to the grocery store once a week. If we all take the recommended precautions, we contribute to remaining virus-free. If we don't practice precautions for our self, it can and should be done for our children and elderly. Be Safe!!

The Northern Pecan

By Kathleen Cue, Nebraska Extension Horticulture Educator in Dodge County

In preparation for April 14's National Pecan Day, what better way to celebrate the day than planting your very own northern pecan tree, Carya illinoensis. Native to southern Wisconsin and the northern parts of Illinois and Iowa and extending south to Texas, the northern pecan can handle winter temperatures as low as -35 degrees F. It has pinnately compound leaves that turn a beautiful yellow color in the fall. This tree gets large, upwards of 70 feet, with a crown extending 40 feet or more, so give it plenty of room at planting time.

The northern pecan tree is monoecious, meaning it has both female and male flowers on the same tree. The best nut production, however, is ensured when more than one pecan variety is planted. The nuts mature around mid-October and are highly nutritious. From planting, northern pecan trees can start producing in as little as 6 years.

The northern pecan is not fussy as to soil pH, being tolerant of alkaline as well as acidic soils. They do, however, need to be in a well-draining soil to prevent crown and root problems. The extensive tap root that the northern pecan develops makes it highly drought tolerant but it also limits recommendations for a starter-sized tree. People seeking the best results for nut production from their northern pecans should start with small trees, those started in 4-inch pots are ideal. Starting with such a small size isn't an impediment—the idea is to get a small tree planted before a deep tap root has developed. Since the northern pecan has such a wide native range, purchasing a tree from a nursery that collects seeds from the northern parts of its range will be important to assure winter hardiness. Once happily planted, the northern pecan doesn't waste any time when it comes to growing, increasing in height more than 12 inches each growing season.

If you're interested in knowing more about growing the northern pecan, or any type of nut tree suitable for this area, check out the Nebraska Nut Growers Association at nebraskanutgrowers.org and the Northern Nut Growers Association at nutgrowing.org.

JESUS OUR SAVIOR LUTHERAN OUTREACH

Pastor Ricky Jacob

"Jesus lives for you!"

There was once a man who suffered the loss of all of his children. Not one or two but ten children all died in a wind-storm on one day. His seven sons and three daughters had gathered together at one of his son's homes and were killed when that house collapsed. I can not imagine the sorrow and the loss that he and his wife felt on that tragic day.

He could have turned against God and blamed him. How did this man respond? 'At this, Job got up and tore his robe and shaved his head. Then he fell to the ground in worship and said: "Naked I came from my mother's womb, and naked I will depart. YAHWEH gave and YAHWEH has taken away; may the name of YAHWEH be praised. In all this, Job did not sin by charging God with wrongdoing" [Job 1:20-22 (NIV84)].

We learn from Sacred Scriptures that YAHWEH was testing Job. And Job had passed the test. Things got much worse as YAHWEH allowed Satan to tempt Job again, this time by afflicting him with painful sores from the soles of his feet to the top of his head. Job's suffering continued for many days.

Three friends came to visit him. They sat in silence for seven days and seven nights. When they opened their mouths they added to Job's suffering. Each one of them said in so many words that Job had obviously done something wrong for YAHWEH to allow such suffering.

Through this all Job did not turn on YAHWEH. He was no doubt depressed. He even said that he wished that at his birth that he would have been stillborn. And then we come to these words of hope in the darkest of times: 'I know that my Redeemer lives, and that in the end he will stand upon the earth. And after my skin has been destroyed, yet in my flesh I will see God; I myself will see him with my own eyes—I, and not another. How my heart yearns within me" [Job 19:25-27]!

These words of Job, as inspired by the Spirit of God, revealed his faith in the resurrection of the dead. Thousands of years before the birth, life, suffering, death and resurrection of his Redeemer - Jesus - Job had this hope. This past Sunday we celebrated the resurrection of the world's only Redeemer. Each and every person who places his or her faith in Jesus has the blessed hope of the resurrection from the death!

About two hundred years ago a pastor by the name of Samuel Medley put these words of Job into a hymn. We sing this heaven each Easter at Jesus Our Savior Lutheran Church. Here are three of the eight verses:

- I know that my Redeemer lives;*
- What comfort this sweet sentence gives!*
- He lives, He lives, who once was dead;*
- He lives, my ever living head.*
- He lives to bless me with His love;*
- He lives to plead for me above;*
- He lives my hungry soul to feed;*
- He lives to help in time of need.*
- He lives to silence all my fears;*
- He lives to wipe away my tears;*
- He lives to calm my troubled heart;*
- He lives all blessings to impart.*
- He lives, my kind, wise, heav'nly friend;*
- He lives and loves me to the end;*
- He lives, and while He lives, I'll sing;*
- He lives, my Prophet, Priest, and King.*

Please note well that Jesus lives for you! Jesus lives for you day and night, as well as night and day. He offers to feed your hungry soul. How? Through the reading of and meditation on His Sacred Word and through the body and blood of Jesus our Savior. He offers to adopt you into His family through the water of Holy Baptism, connecting you to the cross of Jesus and to His victorious resurrection!

Jesus lives for me - praise the LORD! Jesus lives for you, too! Will you allow His Spirit to guide you so that you can live for Him?

On Common Ground

We've recently been experiencing a phenomenon that only a few living souls have experienced... a worldwide pandemic. I've seen a group of people come together to answer the needs of the Winnebago community, and I see a working group coalescing into a formidable force with a common goal to improve the lives and food security of the Winnebago Tribe. Little Priest Tribal College Extension is proud to be a small part of the Food Sovereignty and Security movement.

As things progress through the year, changes will occur in our Extension Calendar, some things will be cancelled, postponed or be presented remotely in GoTo Meetings or even YouTube. Some of you have experienced this already with last week's Meet, Eat & Grow presentation by Extension Director Janyce Woodard. As we proceed, we will do our best to get the word out to the community of our programming and other important community announcements.

For the month of April, we had an Earth Day celebration planned, but due to the Covid-19 shutdown, we must cancel the event. I encourage everyone to celebrate Earth Day in some way on April 22nd, but please always celebrate and honor Mother Earth!

Best Wishes and Good Health!
