Bago Bits...

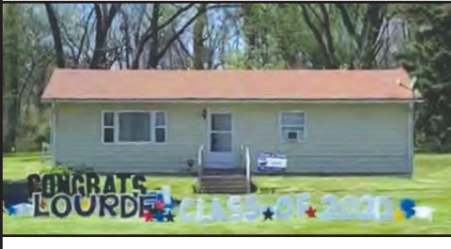

On May 4th, the old halfway house was demolished by our Tribal Roads Department. The building was over 100 years old; construction on a new halfway house will begin soon.

A huge THANK YOU to all the tribal security guards that are implementing the new policy that requires a face mask must be worn to enter local businesses. No Mask, No Service!

Although the graduation ceremony has been postponed to August 1st, families of the WPS graduates came together to honor the class of 2020 with a drive by parade throughout the community! Photo credits to Adrienne Blackhawk.

On the afternoon of May 9th, families of the graduates decorated their front lawns to celebrate for the class of 2020 drive around parade.

These two adorable little ones were showing support to the WPS graduates, as the drive around parade passed by. Photo credits to Jessica Stealer.

On behalf of the community, we would like to send a huge THANK YOU to all the frontline healthcare providers and staff at Twelve Clans Unity Hospital. Your hard work and dedication to our safety is greatly appreciated!

May 5th was National Day of Awareness for Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls. This day is for tribal communities to remember our strong Native women and bring awareness to this crisis.

Winonah Leader Charge
 What were her last words? Did she cry for help? Was she praying? These are questions asked by families of Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women (MMIW). But the burning question is, where is she? Across the United States and Canada indigenous families continue to search for their loved ones, searching for answers, searching for closure. Why are indigenous women going missing? What can we do to stop it? This crisis leaves us with more questions than answers.

Michelle LaMere is a Winnebago activist who frequently speaks out about the issues surrounding Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women shared, "According to the Urban Indian Health Institute, there are 5,712 reports of Missing or Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls, but only 116 of them are logged by the Department of Justice."

Thousands of indigenous woman and girls go missing, there is a lack of news coverage and minimal data tracking these high numbers of MMIW. Why are these stories going unheard?

Jurisdictions differ from state to local to tribal. These different jurisdictions create challenges such as effectively beginning an investigation process, which may also affect media coverage and data collection.

Jason Lawrence the Winnebago Chief of Police recommends, if you think someone is missing it is important to report it right away. Early reporting will begin an investigation. This will help police track down necessary evidence before it is too late to retrieve it such as video surveillance.

Lamere stated, "Data keeping is the biggest obstacle to addressing MMIW solutions. According to the data that does exist, when an MMIW report is made, many times the victim is Indigenous, but the perpetrator is non-Indian. Due to jurisdictional issues on the reservations that require federal investigations to be initiated when the suspect is non-Indian, increased NSP jurisdiction is useless. I believe that the NSP should concentrate on improving their responses, investigations and data entry off the reservations where most of the Indigenous women live."

What can we do? According to the Cultural Survival website, "[G]rass-roots Indigenous groups keep up pressure on legislators to achieve remedies, remain fueled by the #MMIW hashtag and community support. Native American leaders are also building and maintaining community databases, running book groups and youth initiatives, holding red dress exhibitions, and taking action on social media, marches, and in vigils. There are many ways to participate."

LaMere adds, "There have been state laws that have been proposed and passed that have been designed to address this issue. Hannah's Law in Montana and Savannah's Law in North Dakota are examples of laws that were proposed in memory of Indigenous women who were brutally murdered. The commonality between the laws is in creating pathways for better documentation, reporting and cooperation between law enforcement agencies."

It is important to keep yourself and loved ones safe. Lawrence suggested to "setup a safeguard with loved ones; keep in contact and utilize social media." These tools will help family and friends keep track of each other.

Foraging

By Kathleen Cue, Nebraska Extension Horticulture Educator in Dodge County

"Foraging" refers to the gathering of wild edibles for food to grace our table. Historically, the human race began as hunter-gatherers, gleaning food from what was found, not raised. With the growing interest in fresh and local, there has been a resurgence of interest in foraging for wild food.

Morel mushrooms have always had an avid fan base, with hunters jealously guarding the locations of their most lucrative hunting spots. There is a reason for this, with sales of morels netting $20 per pound and more. Similarly, the locations of wild asparagus are closely guarded secrets. My brother keeps a list of spots where he finds wild asparagus so he can be sure to harvest the delectable spears in spring. Dandelion leaves, while never hard to find, make a nutritious early season salad.

Along with enthusiasm for gathering wild edibles must come the knowledge of what is edible and what is not. Upon learning berries gathered were from pokeweed (poisonous) and not chokecherry (edible), a client rushed out the door saying she needed to retrieve all the jars of jelly she had given away to friends and family. Another client complained the rhubarb jam she made from "wild" rhubarb just didn't taste right and was surprised to learn the stalks she was using for her jam came from the weed burdock. While burdock isn't poisonous, doing the research or seeking confirmation from a knowledgeable person helps to avoid these kind of mistakes.

Foraging is generational, when hard-earned knowledge gleaned by a past generation is passed on to the next. This knowledge isn't just about recognizing plants but also how to correctly prepare them for eating. Think about cashews, which aren't native here but are closely related to the native plant poison ivy, and how the knowledge of preparing cashews changes them from something poisonous into an edible.

I grew up in a family that gathered wild plum, wild grape, chokecherry, wild raspberry, walnuts, morel mushrooms, and dandelion greens. The experience was a good teacher, underscoring an appreciation for what nature provides but also a healthy respect for what should be avoided. Especially with mushrooms, never guess or come to the conclusion "this is close enough" because the web site or book you're referencing appears to confirm your thoughts. Antidotes for some toxins, such as poisonous mushrooms and other fungi, don't exist. If a plant has been misidentified, emergency room staff have little to go on when treating symptoms. When foraging, it's important to learn from someone knowledgeable about such things.

"The Winnebago Public Health Department and Twelve Clans Unity Hospital are continuing to monitor and respond to the spread of COVID-19 in our area. Health care services provided by the hospital include an ambulatory care clinic, inpatient care, express care clinic, pharmacy, radiology, emergency care, medical laboratory, physical therapy, social services, and more. The Winnebago Public Health Department strives to create and maintain a healthy community by providing a wide range of total health and wellness programs. These programs include physical, mental, safety, and social services that benefit the Winnebago community.

JESUS OUR SAVIOR LUTHERAN OUTREACH

Pastor Ricky Jacob

"Don't Expect Readiness Without Preparedness!"

The Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department motto right now is: 'Don't Expect Readiness Without Preparedness!' This reminds me of the Boy Scout and the Girl Scout mottos: 'Be Prepared!' It is good to be prepared and ready for anything and not to focus one's attention on just one deadly disease at the expense of ignoring other deadly diseases and health hazards.

My question to you is: Be prepared for what?

Recently I was watching a BBC show about survival in Alaska. The number one rule for survival is: 'Not to die.' And yet some 2,000 people die every year in Alaska out in the wild, out in what is referred to as the Last Frontier. I wonder were they not prepared?

My next question to you is: Are you prepared to die?

On next Thursday, May 21st, we will remember Jesus' ascension into heaven. Ever since Jesus took on flesh and blood, born of Virgin Mary by the blessing of the Holy Spirit, we are living in the last days. As Jesus ascended into the clouds, two angels said to Jesus' disciples, "Men of Galilee," they said, "why do you stand here looking into the sky? This same Jesus, who has been taken from you into heaven, will come back in the same way you have seen him go into heaven" [Acts 1:11 (NIV)].

Another vital question to you is: Are you ready for Jesus' return?

No, one knows the times or dates of the last day. The last day is when this world will be destroyed with no one able to save this planet. The Good News is that at that time a new earth and new heavens will be formed. This whole new world will last forever and offers life with one's Creator, His Son Jesus and the Holy Spirit. There will be peace as all those who are prepared will live forever with the love of God.

The Good News is that you can be prepared right now for that day. Yes, you can be ready whether you die prior to Jesus' return or are still breathing when He returns!

How is one ready for Jesus' return? Jesus promised that He who believes in Him as his/her Lord and Savior will be saved! He/she who does not believe stands condemned and is therefore not ready and totally unprepared. God forbid that person is you!

I close by giving Jesus the last word. [Jesus said to his disciples]: "Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away. Be careful, or your hearts will be weighed down with dissipation, drunkenness and the anxieties of life, and that day will close on you unexpectedly like a trap. For it will come upon all those who live on the face of the whole earth. Be always on the watch, and pray that you may be able to escape all that is about to happen, and that you may be able to stand before the Son of Man" [Luke 21:33-36 (NIV84)].

Spring Community Clean-Up

We cannot accept any household hazardous waste products, which includes; paint, pesticides, herbicides, oil, cleaning chemicals, anti-freeze, fluorescent bulbs, or car batteries. Senator Joni Albrecht WEEKLY UPDATE May 4, 2020

As I am sure most are aware, confirmed cases of the Coronavirus (COVID-19) have been growing in number in Dakota County in District 17 daily since testing began in earnest. Kudos to the leadership at Dakota County Health Department, Emergency Manager, and the Nebraska National Guard for the work they've done and long hours they've devoted to doing it. Certainly, the increased numbers of confirmed cases are concerning. They should also serve as a reminder to all of us to be exercising appropriate caution when making choices that will protect our health and the health of our loved ones and our community. During these times, please remember to follow the six rules suggested by the Governor:
 Stay home. No non-essential errands and no social gatherings. Respect the ten-person limit.
 Socially distance your work. Work from home or use the six-foot rule as much as possible in the workplace.
 Shop alone and only shop once a week. Do not take family with you.
 Help kids follow social distancing. Play at home. No group sports. And no playgrounds.
 Help seniors stay at home by shopping for them. Do not visit long-term care facilities.
 Exercise daily at home or with an appropriately socially-distanced activity.

Informational Videos highlighting these and other ways to stay healthy and keep families healthy during the pandemic and one about what to do if an individual or family member becomes ill or has been exposed to COVID-19 have been translated and released on YouTube in the following six languages:
 Spanish
 Arabic
 Karen
 Somali
 Nepalese
 French

Re-Opening parts of District 17:
 The Governor announced that as of May 4, 2020, the Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department region that includes Thurston and Wayne Counties, is one of 19 separate regions with Directed Health Measures (DHM) that relax some restrictions in place. The DHM will be in place and effective through May 31, 2020. Businesses that may open or reopen under more relaxed guideline limitations include restaurants, barber shops, hair salons, nail studios, massage services, tattoo parlors, and child-care facilities. Each business is subject to certain restrictions and social distancing practices.

Because of the increasing number of cases seen in Dakota County, Dakota County Health region, which oversees Dakota County, is NOT included in any DHM loosening restrictions at this time and business closings previously ordered will remain in place. For more information about the Directed Health Measure changes, visit the Governor's website at www.governor.nebraska.gov

Although Thurston and Wayne County are not seeing the significant numbers seen in Dakota County, I urge residents to be just as dedicated to making choices that protect your health and the health of your families.

Maintaining the integrity of Nebraska's health care system remains the State's top consideration when making decisions about public health measures. The Governor's office and the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) continue to monitor the state's and each region's ability to have ample capacity to care for area residents.

 Governor's Daily Briefings and Weekly Live Town Hall

As a reminder, Governor Ricketts is holding press conferences updating the state's response to COVID-19 on Mondays at 1:00 PM and Tuesday through Friday at 2:00 PM. The conference is being broadcast live by many television and radio stations, or can be accessed on the Governor's Facebook page, where it broadcasts live, as well. The Governor holds press conference interpreted in Spanish on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 5:00 PM.

Additionally, NET is broadcasting the Governor's Live Town Halls every Thursday at 8:30 PM. At the NET web page, people can ask their questions ahead of time. To ask your question during the program, call one of these numbers: 800-676-5446 or 402-472-1212.

TestNebraska Information Available in Spanish
 TestNebraska is now accessible to even more Nebraskans. The website now includes information and instructions in Spanish as well as English. If you know someone who would benefit from this addition, please let them know of its availability and direct them to www.TestNebraska.com/es to take the test and/or to take the survey.

The expand testing will give the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services, and Health Officials across the state valuable information as the state begins reopening the economy. All Nebraskans are urged to complete a short assessment survey. Testing sites will multiple kits and multiple test options. All individually identifiable information being gathered for the TestNebraska initiative is protected by state and federal law. Aggregate data collected will be shared with the public health departments which are expected to then provide the aggregate data to the National information gatherers.

AG Disruption and Depopulation

As processing plants work to deep clean, stagger shifts and adapt to social distancing and other safety recommendations in response to COVID-19, many producers have been struggling with decisions about livestock depopulation. At the Governor's press conference last week, Director Wellman from the Nebraska Department of Agriculture spoke to the issue and referred to resources available to AG producers having to make these tough decisions. My office reached out to Director Wells for more information. To recap, the Nebraska Department of Environment and Energy (NEE), has provided temporary period, until June 1, 2020 for operations to have more livestock than previously permitted on the land. There are requirements and necessary precautions that must be taken.

In addition, there may be some federal assistance to help deal with the financial aspects related to depopulation and mortality management under the USDA's Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP). For more information, be sure to follow the Governor's daily briefings and access state information at <https://nda.nebraska.gov/COVID-19>, keyword Livestock Depopulation Guidance www.deq.state.ne.us for NEE guidelines and/or the USDA website at www.usda.gov

Yes, these are challenging times. Please remember that together we will get through them as we have come through challenging times in the past. #NebraskaStrong.

As always, I invite you to let me know your thoughts, ideas, concerns, or suggestions by contacting me at jalbrecht@leg.ne.gov or by calling my office at 402.471.2716.

Congratulations to the "Class of 2020"

Winonah Leader Charge

WINNEBAGO--The Winnebago School district administrators have been working hard to adjust and transition to the interruptions from COVID-19, including how to best handle traditional activities like commencement. School leaders have been working on balancing between appropriately honoring their students while managing the challenges of the Coronavirus.
 Dan Fehringer the Winnebago Public School Superintendent shared that the COVID-19 Pandemic has had a major effect on the school, students and community. All events and activities were cancelled through May 31. This included the graduation ceremony which was scheduled for Saturday, May 9 at 2:00. A date for the graduation ceremony has been set for Saturday, August 1. We will follow the mandates that are in place on August 1. We were able to put together a virtual slide show honoring the "Class of 2020" It premiered on Saturday, May 9 on the WPS Facebook page. Also Mrs. Tremayne and Mr. James put signs honoring the seniors in their yards. The senior parents organized a cruise through town after the Senior show was released Saturday.
