Winnebago Indians call themselves "Hochunkgra." A Siouan people, they once occupied the southern half of Wisconsin and the northern counties of Illinois. The Black Hawk War of 1832 and a series of treaties forced the Winnebago out of their homeland, and they were removed to reservations in Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota, and finally to a portion of the Omaha Reservation in Nebraska.

Winnebago Health Department Determined to get Winnebago Vaccinated. Here is the Latest...

Keri Lapointe received her first dose of Pfizer vaccine after giving birth to her newborn daughter.

Winonah Leader Charge

Winnebago, NE--Winnebago Public Health Department has hit a milestone of vaccinating 70% of the Winnebago Community members who are 16 years and older. Although, this number can and will change if the CDC authorizes the use of the vaccine for teens between the ages of 12 years old to 15 years old.

"When the CDC recommends the Pfizer vaccine for the 12 years old and up population, we will administer those vaccinations immediately to those who sign up" said Emilee Longuski, Communications Manager at Winnebago Comprehensive Health System.

If the new age range is authorized to receive the vaccine, the Winnebago Public Health Department hopes the number of vaccinated community members will stay at 70% or hit their goal of 80% of community members vaccinated. If community members in this age range do not sign up for the vaccination, it could lower the current 70% vaccination rate.

"At this point, we have vaccinated over four thousand people which is pretty incredible at the rate we have been able to administer" shared Longuski.

Vaccine appointments have slowed down for the weekly clinic. "We still have a lot of available appointments and available vaccines. We are solely administering the Pfizer vaccine. Most people in the community want the Pfizer vaccine but individuals who want another vaccine, we can help coordinate alternatives for them" said Longuski.

The Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine is a 2-dose series given three weeks apart. The Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine is 95% effective at preventing COVID-19.

Winnebago Public Health Department is still holding clinics at the Winnebago Public School Gymnasium every Wednesday from 9:00 a.m.-11:30 a.m. If these times do not work, community members can call to coordinate a time that does.

Longuski stated, "we are still administering to people who are over 16; no matter where they live, not matter their tribal affiliation, tribal or non-tribal. If anyone has an interest, they can call Public Health Nursing at (402) 878-2258. People can call to ask questions or discuss any concerns they might have. Our team can help guide them to the choice that fits them best."

"Our Public Health Nurses and our staff believe in the Science and believe in the vaccines. Getting 2-3 new community members vaccinated a week does help get that number up. Every few people matter. Every 1 person that comes through that door from the community moves that number closer to that herd immunity" said Longuski. Herd immunity means there is enough antibodies and protection in the community to make spread unlikely.

Data about the COVID-19 vaccines and cases in the Winnebago Community:

There has been a total of 351 COVID-19 cases so far in Winnebago.

53% of the positive cases have been people between the ages of 0-29 years old.

Over half of the COVID-19 cases where due to a positive case within the household or from a close contact.

49% of the unvaccinated Winnebago population is between the ages of 12-29 years old. Youth are the largest unvaccinated group.

Out the vaccinated population, the majority of people getting the COVID-19 vaccine are 30 years old and up. The 30+ age group account for 72% of the vaccinated population.

"We have been lucky because of the vaccine efforts; our cases have gone down. Efforts won't be successful unless it is stamped out completely. The only way to get back to normal is for it to go away completely and for everyone to step forward and do their part" said Longuski.

To sign-up for an appointment visit: www.WinnebagoPublicHealth.com/VaccineWaitingList and submit the form online. A representative from the Winnebago Comprehensive Health Department (WPHD) will contact each patient by phone to schedule a vaccine appointment time.

Winnebago Football Team Stubbles Against #1 Ranked Tiospa Zina

The Winnebago Indians line up for kick-off in the 1st quarter during their home game on Thursday, May 6th against Tiospa Zina.

WINNEBAGO, NE – The Winnebago Football Team would have won if the game was only two quarters but during the second half of the game the Indians found a way to lose. One of the worst things to hear in football is the announcers say "Interception by Tiospa Zina returned for a touchdown!" That is what happened to Winnebago on Thursday, May 6th at the Winnebago Stadium. Winnebago ended up losing by 10 points.

Final score was 30-20.

Winnebago won in stats. They had more offensive yards, more passing yards, and better kick return yards. The stat that matter the most in this game was turnovers. Winnebago had 4 massive turnovers and Tiospa Zina had 2.

Winnebago Quarterback Caleb Ke-arnes had a game high 230 passing yards, 84 rushing yards, 3 passing touchdowns, and 2 interceptions. He was helped by freshman running back, Antrell Harlan with 77 yards.

Winnebago will take on Omaha Nation on Thursday, May 13th for the final regular season game down in Macy, Nebraska (Due to publication schedule, scores will be reported next issue). This game is intriguing because Omaha Nation averages 47 points a game and Winnebago is only averaging 33 points per game. "I hope Winnebago can forget about the loss against Tiospa Zina because if they play Winnebago football going into the playoffs they will meet up with Tiospa Zina again in the championship game. However, they need to stay focused on Omaha Nation because they been putting up 66 points in their last two games" said football announcer and Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska (WTN) Communications Officer, Garan Coons.

Remaining season schedule

Question of the Edition: What summer activities are you most looking forward to?

Garan Coons
 Winnebago Communications Officer
Last year during the summer I really got into bass fishing. I think it was because of the pandemic and its way different from cat fishing at the river. This year the one thing I want make sure I do is attend an outdoor concert since we couldn't last year. Does anyone know if WinnaVegas going to have any? Jon Pardi (country artist) is going to be at the Stir Cove in Council Bluffs. Let's go!!! Bring on summer!!!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thoughts from a Crazy 2020...

I have not been writing many columns lately. I have been very busy and have also started writing columns for the Omaha World Herald. The ones I have been writing for Omaha paper center on efforts to give a larger audience perspective on tribal issues. I think if people can see things from our viewpoint, it might help build understanding and trust. I will try and publish those columns here to if they are relevant. I will use this column to do a quick update on several things to get everyone up to speed and then go a bit more in-depth in the next few columns.

Record Year

2020 was the year of the pandemic, but it was also the best year in the history of Ho-Chunk, Inc. We managed to end the year with 1600 employees, $308 million in revenue and $28 million in net income. All of these numbers are company records—"hey hey!" Our previous net income record was $15 million in 2015 and we came close to doubling it.

We have a record year, while a large percentage of our workforce was forced to work remotely. I have nothing but praise for our staff and our people in Human Resources and I.T. who figured out a way to not only keep going, but also thrive in a tough environment. Also, I want to thank the many employees in our community who couldn't work remotely and continued to provide much needed services at personal risk to themselves.

Gaming Update

During the pandemic we also had to gathered almost 500,000 signatures for the gaming expansion in Nebraska. It was an incredibly stressful time. For example, we bought tens of thousands of disposable pens to avoid concerns about spreading Covid 19. We fought and won a battle at the Nebraska Supreme Court to keep our petitions on the ballot. We waged a campaign against some overtly anti-Indian rhetoric and won in overwhelming numbers.

Winning is nice, but it meant a lot of work was ahead for us. Since the day after the election last fall, we have been working constantly to design the casinos and acquire all the land necessary to build the tracks and casinos. We also started a whole new corporate division called WarHorse gaming, which will more than double the size of our company over the next couple of years. We have been in the middle of working to get some extra legislation passed to help clarify our gaming expansion. We have also been trying to raise the approximately $550 million it will take to build all of the casinos.

We have been keeping our political leaders up to speed, but only releasing information on a limited basis publicly because there are a lot of people who want to know what is going on in order to hurt us or help themselves. Once the legislation is passed, we can start the licensing process and hopefully start construction soon after we receive the official license. A lot of things need to happen, but I am hopeful construction will start in late summer or early fall. We will release more details when appropriate, but rest assured we are very focused on making this happen.

Elders Village

With the blessing of tribal leadership, we are in the process of designing what we are calling an Elders Village. We intend to create an independent living area where elders can have affordable and fully accessible housing. We want the houses and living units to be relatively close together with a shared green space and places for interaction, cooking, and physical activity. We intend to build it in the next phase of the Ho-Chunk Village, or Village 2.0 as we call it.

We are in the process of designing it now and hope to use some of the federal funding to fight Covid 19 to build it. We believe that quality and safe housing that is not overcrowded makes a lot of sense because it will help protect our elders from unnecessary exposure to Covid 19.

JESUS OUR SAVIOR LUTHERAN OUTREACH

"God-given duties of Mothers"

This past Sunday was Mother's Day, a day that one often honors his or her mother in special ways. Mothers are often taken for granted, unappreciated or under-appreciated, this is sad. We should thank God for our mother (and fathers) as well as cherishing her each and every day.

Our Creator gave us a separate command regarding mothers. Do you know what it is? "Honor your father and your mother so that you may live long in the land YAHWEH your God is giving you" [Exodus 20:12 NIV84].

This command to honor one's mother (and father) from God is to be lived each and every day. Dr. Martin Luther explained this command through these words: 'We should fear and love God so that we do not despise or anger our parents and other authorities, but honor them, serve and obey them, love and cherish them.' Note well: it does not say whether they deserve honor or not.

From the very beginning, Creator God blessed women in a special way. God gave Eve the blessing of motherhood. Eve's name means 'life.' Each and every person, besides Adam, came through Eve - the mother of the lives of all mankind. God promised that through Eve, that 'one' of her offspring, would crush Satan and redeem the world.

So throughout time, women have served Creator God through child-bearing. The apostle Paul wrote these words to Timothy: 'women will be saved through childbearing—if they continue in faith, love and holiness with propriety' [1st Timothy 2:15]. Only women can give birth to a child. Women are saved not because they bear a child, rather God's Word clarifies that it is through faith in God's Son Jesus.

God's plan and way of salvation came through a virgin who was blessed to give birth to the Son of God, Jesus. God's will is that all men, women, and children would be saved and to come to a knowledge of truth. That truth is found in believing in Jesus as God and Savior.

Jesus was blessed to have a God-fearing and loving mother. Virgin Mary was blessed to give birth to Jesus, but more importantly she was blessed to know and to trust in Jesus as her Lord and Savior. Mary sang these words: 'My soul glorifies the Lord and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior, for he has been mindful of the humble state of his servant. From now on all generations will call me blessed' [Luke 1:46-48].

Here is an encounter Jesus had regarding the blessings of his mother, and of all women: 'a woman in the crowd called out [to Jesus], "Blessed is the mother who gave you birth and nursed you." He replied, "Blessed rather are those who hear the word of God and obey it" [Luke 11:27-28].

Yes, this past Sunday was Mother's Day. There were so many more people who gathered with their mother, treated her royally, maybe even taking her out to dinner - or at the least giving her a call on the phone - than who gathered in God's house in order to thank God for His gift of their life and the countless blessings of their mother!

I close with these words of Jesus: "Blessed rather are those who hear the word of God and obey it!"

Asthma is a chronic lung disorder that causes swelling and inflammation in the lungs. According to the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute, asthma affects more than 25 million people in the United States, or about 8 percent of the population. Seven million of them are children.

According to the Twelve Clans Unity Hospital, 243 individuals received treatment for asthma during 2020. Given the total population in WTN, that means we are above the national average at around 9.3 percent.

The exact causes of asthma can be difficult to pinpoint. Allergies and triggers in the environment can cause asthma symptoms and asthma flare-ups, and genetics can play a role. However, the exact reasons why people develop asthma is unclear.

If you or someone in your family has asthma, you are probably well aware of the triggers that can bring on its symptoms. For others, it is helpful to understand what can cause asthma vs asthma symptoms.

Common Triggers

pollen, dust mites, mold spores, pet dander, particles from cockroach waste, smoke, physical activity, cold air, the common cold, certain medications, including beta blockers, aspirin, ibuprofen (Advil, Motrin IB, others) and naproxen sodium (Aleve), strong emotions or stress, sulfites and preservatives added to certain foods or beverages like shrimp, dried fruit, processed potatoes, beer and wine.

Common Symptoms

shortness of breath, chest pain or tightness, wheezing when exhaling (common sign of asthma in children), trouble sleeping caused by shortness of breath, coughing or wheezing, coughing or wheezing attacks that are worsened by a respiratory virus, such as a cold or the flu.

You may not be aware you have asthma since symptoms can be mild. You should see your doctor if you think you have asthma. Asthma symptoms vary from person to person. You may have infrequent asthma attacks, with symptoms only at certain times — such as when exercising — or have symptoms all the time.

For some people, asthma signs and symptoms flare up in certain situations. If you are experiencing a connection between these triggers and your breathing difficulties, you should see your doctor to get a diagnosis and set up an action plan. Early treatment for asthma can prevent lung damage later in life.

If you know you have asthma, work with your doctor to keep it under control. If your medication doesn't ease your symptoms or you need to use a quick inhaler more often, it's time to get with your doctor soon. Continued overuse of asthma medication can lead to side effects making your asthma worsen.

If you want to learn more, Lung.org/asthma is a great place to start, where you will find long-standing resources like the Asthma Basics online course, Asthma Control Assessment tool and more. So make sure to listen to what your lungs are telling you and take care of yourself.

COMMUNITY NEWS

Many from the Winnebago Tribe Recognized May 5th as a Day to Remember the Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women & Children. Urging More Awareness.

Winonah Leader Charge

Winnebago, NE--May 5th of each year is the national awareness day for Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls (MMIWG).

"The main thing with our MMIWG day is to have a lot more awareness brought to this topic because of the stigma and the minimal data that is being reported on it. So many of our relatives are dismissed too easily" said Donna Wolff Prevention Specialist at YCIC (Youth Crisis Intervention Center).

Data shows:

Indigenous women are murder at a rate 10 times higher than the national average (U.S. Department of Justice), and homicide is one of the leading causes of death for young indigenous women (3rd for women age 10-24, 5th for 25-44).

Native American women suffer sexual assault at a much higher rate and with more serious consequences than any other racial or ethnic group in the United States.

Rapes are overwhelmingly committed by individuals outside the Native American community.

"It is all about education. We need to keep better track of our people and letting relatives know where you are and who you are with" shared Wolff.

"We need to talk about it. It is a very hard topic to talk about. Families need to be more aware and keep in touch with their relatives. Letting young native girls know about this topic and what can happen to them especially, with the highway that goes through Winnebago. Youth can easily be picked up. We need to take this seriously" said Wolff.

If you or someone you know is in immediate danger, please call 911.

Domestic Violence, Sexual Violence and MMIW

StrongHearts Native Helpline

Centuries of Missing and Murdered Indigenous Peoples

Native American cultures, languages, lands and lives were all systematically and forcibly taken through colonization. Our ancestors endured genocide and assimilation for more than five centuries. Today, there is ample evidence that genocide still occurs through the inhumane conditions on reservations, the jurisdictional issues that prevent the prosecution of non-Native perpetrators on tribal lands and ignoring the Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women (MMIW) crisis.

The Connection to Domestic and Sexual Violence

Domestic violence isn't a Native American tradition; it is a symptom of colonization that continues to this day.

Through colonization, Native women were devalued by non-Native people. They were degraded, they were attacked and raped. Acts that still continue today. Tribal communities still experience high rates of rape and sexual assault, largely committed by non-Native perpetrators. Native women are sexualized in the media--in costumes, in Native American imagery and caricatures, and in movies. Native women and men still struggle from the effects of colonization, marginalization and assimilation and our shared trauma. Over half of Native women, in particular, have been physically abused by an intimate partner.

StrongHearts Native Helpline understands the issues of MMIW are related to domestic, dating and sexual violence. We understand that missing and murdered victims can be children, elders, Two-Spirit, men and those with disabilities. This crisis affects all of our relatives. Survivors deserve justice.

Research shows that women are more likely to be killed by an intimate partner (husband, boyfriend, same-sex partner, or ex) than by anyone else. Over 84% of Native women have experienced violence in their lifetime. Nationally, across all racial and ethnic groups, approximately two out of five female murder victims are killed by an intimate partner. Homicide is a leading cause of death for American Indian and Alaska Native women. Many killings linked to domestic violence occur right after recent breakups or during separations. Leaving an abusive relationship is the most dangerous time for a victim of domestic violence.

Complicated legal systems, jurisdictional confusion, and lack of resources also leave many Native victims of violence and their families without support or justice. Whether the violence is coming from inside the home, or from strangers living near Tribal communities or in urban centers, meaningful action must be taken to prevent more Native women from going missing or being murdered.

Prevention

One way to address these issues is through culturally-appropriate domestic and sexual violence advocacy. We need services that approach healing from an indigenous perspective – where victims feel understood and where their unique needs as Native people can be met.

Created by and built to serve Tribal communities across the United States, StrongHearts Native Helpline is here to answer that call. It is a culturally-appropriate, anonymous, confidential and free service dedicated to serving Native American and Alaska Native survivors and concerned family members and friends affected by domestic, dating and sexual violence.

Advocates are available 24/7 by texting or calling 1-844-7NATIVE (762-8483) or via online chat at strongheartshelpline.org. Advocates can provide lifesaving tools and immediate support to enable survivors to find safety and live lives free of abuse. StrongHearts Native Helpline is a project of the National Indigenous Women's Resource Center and the National Domestic Violence Hotline.

WINNEBAGO BENEFITING FROM RENEWABLE ENERGY

WINNEBAGO, Neb. – Wind turbines and solar panels are all part of a long-term effort to make the Winnebago community self-sufficient when it comes to its energy needs.

So far, those steps have helped the community save $250,000 with those funds being redirected toward supporting community programs.

A 2018 expansion project increased the community's solar capacity from 400kW to 742kW, reinforcing Winnebago's status as one of Nebraska's largest renewable energy infrastructures and officials predict the panels fully paying for themselves within seven years.

"Being able to save ourselves money while also increasing our energy independence and doing our part to help the environment is a phenomenal achievement," said Willy Bass, Ho-Chunk, Inc.'s Community Engagement & Impact Manager. "We try to be good stewards of the land and, hopefully, inspire others to do their part."

Renewable efforts in Winnebago date back to 2007 when Ho-Chunk, Inc. installed five wind turbines at its properties to offset energy use.

Since then, about 2,400 solar panels have been installed across the community at sites including the Blackhawk Community Center, Ho-Chunk, Inc.'s accounting offices, two Pony Express convenience stores and other tribal businesses.

Over the projected 20-year lifetime of the solar panels, the Winnebago community is projected to save about $2.5 million dollars. The panels also have offset 1,920 tons of CO2 emissions, which is equivalent to the consumption of 4,445 barrels of oil.

Ho-Chunk, Inc.'s mission is to drive the socio-economic development of the Winnebago people through a world-class tribally-owned company. Founded in 1994 with one employee, Ho-Chunk, Inc. has grown into a diversified corporation with numerous subsidiaries and over 1,000 employees from a variety of ethnic backgrounds and skill sets. Our award-winning business model reinvests in the Winnebago Tribe through programs including employment, housing, education and health. The Winnebago community's investment in renewable resources – including boasting more than 2,400 solar panels – has helped it save almost $250,000 in a little more than a decade.

Solar development technician Robert Byrnes talks about one of the solar arrays in Winnebago, which are part of an effort to increase the community's energy sovereignty.

American Legion Post 363 is one of more than a dozen sites in Winnebago affixed with solar panels, which have generated significant financial savings for the community while also reducing CO2.

Renewable efforts such as wind turbines and solar panels have helped the Winnebago community save nearly $250,000 since 2007 and removed 1,920 CO2 emissions.
