Winnebago Indians call themselves "Hochunkgra." A Siouan people, they once occupied the southern half of Wisconsin and the northern counties of Illinois. The Black Hawk War of 1832 and a series of treaties forced the Winnebago out of their homeland, and they were removed to reservations in Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota, and finally to a portion of the Winnebago Reservation in Nebraska.

South Sioux City, NE—On July 3rd, the LaMere family organized a 50th Memorial Ceremony for Anthony John LaMere, the only Winnebago Tribe member killed in Action in Vietnam on July 1st, 1971.

50 years later, LaMere's legacy continues to impact the lives of many. This was evident during the ceremony at Siouxland Freedom Park in South Sioux City, NE. The memory of LaMere was celebrated with a ceremony, songs and a meal.

"It was a great day for the LaMere family, It was an emotional day, starting with the view looking over the top of the Vietnam Veterans Wall and seeing friends and relatives coming into the park. Some old, some young, but all came to honor this fallen Winnebago Warrior, SP4 Anthony J. LaMere, 50 years after his passing. His sacrifice will always be remembered with the etching on the wall and speaking his name. It was a perfect day with the drum group singing the LaMere song and concluding with the 21 Gun Salute and Taps. We made all our relatives proud and smile on the other side of Maunas creation" said Tony Wood the nephew of LaMere.

A Tribute to Sioux City's Legendary Blues Harmonica Player Curtis St. Cyr

Curt St. Cyr and The Kalico Kats Blues Band perform in Sioux City, Iowa in 2012.

Winonah Leader Charge

If you met him, you would remember him. His magnetic personality, his leadership, and his love for the rhythm and blues.

On July 3rd, a tribute to the talented harmonica player Curtis St. Cyr was held at the 30th annual Saturday in the Park.

Saturday in the Park is one of Iowa's largest music festivals and attracts around 50,000 people from all over.

St. Cyr was one of the original performers, performing at the first annual Saturday in the Park.

In total, he performed a record of 8 times. "No other band has done so, and no other band has played twice. It was an honor for him to be asked back each time. He was good at it, he brought a new show each time, playing with different band members" shared Theresa St. Cyr wife of Curtis St. Cyr.

"He was very musical. He came from a very musical family. His father brought back his first harmonica from Mardi Gras, from there he started playing harmonica. That's what he specialized in was the harmonica and singing. He was asked to sing multiple times for friends, family, and relatives at funerals and he did so willing without hesitation" continued Mrs. St. Cyr.

David Bernstein the Co-Founder of Saturday in the Park said "Curt is a record holder that's for sure. Curt honestly brought legit blues. He had such a soulful voice, a beautiful voice and also was a great harp player. Curt could have been anywhere. He could have been in Chicago, to me that's the home of the blues."

"When he left this Earth, I know Saturday in the Park was with him and we appreciate everyone who came out and showed their support. We appreciate the Saturday in the Park organization for honoring his legacy and his memory" said Garan Coons son of Curtis St. Cyr.

"We want his legacy to live on through his children, grandchildren so they know what their grandpa was all about. He was a very humble, kind hearted person. He had passion for music and his family" shared Mrs. St. Cyr.

The tribute video titled 'Curtis St. Cyr Tribute Video Played at Saturday in the Park on July 3rd, 2021' can be viewed on the Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska's YouTube Channel.

Important Changes to the Child Tax Credit

Recently, there were changes made to the child tax credit that will benefit many taxpayers. As part of the American Rescue Plan Act that was enacted in March 2021, the child tax credit:

- Amount has increased for certain taxpayers
- Is fully refundable (meaning you can receive it even if you don't owe the IRS)
- May be partially received in monthly payments

The new law also raised the age of qualifying children to 17 from 16, meaning some families will be able to take advantage of the credit longer.

The IRS will pay half the credit in the form of advance monthly payments beginning July 15. Taxpayers will then claim the other half when they file their 2021 income tax return.

Though these tax changes are temporary and only apply to the 2021 tax year, they may present important cashflow and financial planning opportunities today. It is also important to note that the monthly advance of the child tax credit is a significant change. The credit is normally part of your income tax return and would reduce your tax liability. The choice to have the child tax credit advanced will affect your refund or amount due when you file your return. To avoid any surprises, please contact our office.

Qualifications and how much to expect

The child tax credit and advance payments are based on several factors, including the age of your children and your income.

- The credit for children ages five and younger is up to $3,600 — with up to $300 received in monthly payments.
- The credit for children ages six to 17 is up to $3,000 — with up to $250 received in monthly payments.

To qualify for the child tax credit monthly payments, you (and your spouse if you file a joint tax return) must have:

- Filed a 2019 or 2020 tax return and claimed the child tax credit or given the IRS your information using the non-filer tool
- A main home in the U.S. for more than half the year or file a joint return with a spouse who has a main home in the U.S. for more than half the year
- A qualifying child who is under age 18 at the end of 2021 and who has a valid Social Security number
- Income less than certain limits

You can take full advantage of the credit if your income (specifically, your modified adjusted gross income) is less than $75,000 for single filers, $150,000 for married filing jointly filers and $112,500 for head of household filers. The credit begins to phase out above those thresholds.

Higher-income families (e.g., married filing jointly couples with $400,000 or less in income or other filers with $200,000 or less in income) will generally get the same credit as prior law (generally $2,000 per qualifying child) but may also choose to receive monthly payments.

Taxpayers generally won't need to do anything to receive any advance payments as the IRS will use the information it has on file to start issuing the payments.

IRS's child tax credit update portal

Using the IRS's child tax credit and update portal, taxpayers can update their information to reflect any new information that might impact their child tax credit amount, such as filing status or number of children. Parents may also use the online portal to elect out of the advance payments or check on the status of payments.

The IRS also has a non-filer portal to use for certain situations.

Tribal Members are encouraged to contact their tax professional with any questions.

LeMere Family Honors Winnebago Tribal Member killed in Action in Vietnam this kind of song. It's not forgotten. It's kept in the heart" shared from a historical article from 1971.

Written Statement from Bob Kerrey shared by Jennifer LaMere:

"The most patriotic speech I ever heard was given by one of the finest men I ever knew: Frank LaMere. Frank was a friend, a good friend. And the speech he gave was actually supposed to be an introduction of me.

His introduction was far more memorable than my speech, which even I have forgotten.

Frank talked about his brother Tony who had been killed two weeks after his twentieth birthday near Quang Tri, Vietnam on July 1st, 1971. Fifty years ago.

All Frank did to capture his brother's sacrifice was to describe all the things - good and bad - that Tony had missed.

President Nixon's re-election and resignation.

Meeting and marrying the love of his life and building the family of his dreams.

The Godfather, The Deer Hunter, Disco, and bell bottom pants.

He missed the peace agreement that ended the war and the welcome home for Americans released from Vietnamese prisons.

And more. Much more.

Frank's slow, quiet description of all that his brother missed brought tears to my eyes. Remembering it still does.

To all of you celebrating and remembering the brief, brave life of Tony LaMere: Thank you. I wish I could be with you."

Written statement by Frank LaMere, brother of Anthony J. LaMere, Childhood History and Details on Anthony J. LaMere's life:

"Specialist Four Anthony John LaMere, a member of the Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska, was killed in action on the 1st of July 1971 in the Quang Tri Province of Vietnam. He died at the age of 20 years and 20 days while walking the point position on a combat patrol when a member of his platoon stepped on a booby trap. Anthony was a member of the Bear Clan who was serving with Company B, 1st Battalion, 506th

Infantry of the 101st Airborne Division, the "Screaming Eagles." He was awarded the Bronze Star, the Air Medal and the Purple Heart for his service and sacrifice and left behind a proud Gold Star family and a people who honor and remember him.

Tony was born on June 12, 1951 and attended grade schools in South Sioux City and Winnebago Nebraska. He graduated from the 8th grade at St. Augustine's Indian Mission in Winnebago and attended Trinity Prep Seminary in Sioux City, Iowa. He graduated from Immaculate Conception High School in Stephan, South Dakota in 1970 before he enlisted in the Army on August 6, 1970.

Tony left behind four brothers, three of whom served in the Vietnam era, and five sisters. He was the son of John LaMere and Matilda Rogue LaMere. He was the grandson of Pete LaMere and Iva Littlewolf LaMere and Charlie Rogue and Fern St. Cyr Rogue. Tony's parents and his grandparents are all gone now but many nieces and nephews have come and one nephew bears his name.

He is remembered as a courageous young Winnebago boy who gave his life that people may live and may live free. He gave all of his Ho-Chunk relatives the right to stand on his shoulders and to talk of how things could be and how things should be for the people and the generations to come. It is a sacred responsibility that we who remain must undertake every day of our life. A letter received from Tony written before his death spoke to his resolve, humility and commitment and should be a testament to how we as Ho-Chunk people should face adversity. "I can take no pride like others here in saying that I am fearless or unafraid when I go into battle. I can only take pride in the fact that I go out on patrol day after day with fear and death all around me." He acted for the people and we remember our Ho-Chunk relative." Anthony is remembered on Panel 3W, Line 96." The following remembrance was written by Frank LaMere the brother of Anthony John LaMere.

Bethani Redhorn

I would love to blow the whole $1,500 on my Wishlist: new clothes for me and my kids, new shoes for my boys, new toys for my fur baby, tint the windows on my car, and spend the remaining amount on a spontaneous road trip! :)

Well, what I want to do with it is way different than what I am going to do with it. I want to shop and have a day of pampering but what I am actually going to do with it is pay bills (sad face).

Winnebago Reaches 70% COVID-19 Vaccination Rate for Community Members 12 Years Old and Up

Winnebago, NE – The Winnebago Public Health Department (WPHD) has announced that 70% of people living in Winnebago who are at least twelve years old have received at least once dose of the COVID-19 vaccine. WPHD has conducted weekly community vaccination clinics since January of this year and they continue to be held every Wednesday at Winnebago Public School. The clinic is open to any individual who is twelve years old and older. The vaccine available is the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine, which is a two-dose series given 21 days apart.

“Reaching this milestone reflects the commitment that the Winnebago Community has to keeping their people safe. We are honored to be a part of this fight against COVID-19, and I am proud of our staff who have worked tirelessly to help get us to this point,” said Mona Zuffante, WPHD Public Health Administrator.

The Pfizer vaccine is a mRNA COVID-19 vaccine and is shown to be 95% effective at preventing COVID-19 and its variants. In general, vaccinated individuals who are infected with COVID-19 experience mild symptoms and are at less risk of mortality.

Vaccinations in Winnebago increased after the Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska announced plans to hold their 155th Annual Winnebago Homecoming Celebration on July 23rd - July 25th, 2021. To attend this free event, the Tribe is requiring all in attendance to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19. Individuals will be required to present their COVID-19 vaccination record card or immunizations prior to entry. Children 0- 11 can attend the event if accompanied by a fully-vaccinated adult.

Currently, there are no active cases of COVID-19 in Winnebago and WPHD is continuing to work toward their goal of vaccinating at least 80% of the Winnebago Community. Anyone interested in receiving their COVID-19 vaccine can call (402) 878-2258 or visit www.Winnebago-PublicHealth.com/Vaccine. A representative from the WPHD will contact each patient by phone to schedule a vaccine appointment time.

Graft Union Incompatibility

Lots of trees can be grafted—fruit trees, shade trees, and even small ornamental trees. Grafting is the art of putting together two different parts of trees to make one new tree. Unlike Frankenstein, the results are not monstrous, but instead the new tree will have some of the best traits of each of its parts. The rootstock can impart things like dwarfness, winter hardiness, and soil pH adaptability, among other positives. The top of a graft union, called the scion, may bring bigger flowers, more fruit, and/or a different form than normally found (think of a lilac bush grafted onto a standard). If a cutting can be slow to root, grafting to a root system can get the plant off to a quicker start, making for a saleable tree sooner rather than later.

While nurserywomen and men seek out closely related rootstock-to-scion-wood unions to ensure grafting success, sometimes issues of incompatibility develop. These issues can occur right away, or they can develop 15 years after the tree has been planted in its permanent home. Symptoms of graft union incompatibility are odd, with a range of curious developments. The trunk may develop girth far beyond the size of the rootstock, giving the plant a bulging top-heavy appearance. Another indication of graft union incompatibility is overgrowth of roots, with roots aggressively forming, one over the top of the other, gradually encompassing and constricting the scion itself. When this occurs, reduced leafing and branch dieback in the scion are typical. The important thing to remember with graft union incompatibility is that it is a location of weakness, leading to possible breakage at the juncture.

There are a few reasons why graft unions fail. Sometimes the rootstock and scion are not related closely enough. If the two components belong to the same plant family but not the same genus, then incompatibility can develop. Another possibility--disease-causing organisms--may be present when the parts are grafted, sealing in pathogens, and creating the perfect environment for their growth and development. A final possibility for graft incompatibility is the grafting technique itself. There are a number of grafting methods, each with its own benefit but not necessarily suited to all grafting endeavors.

Not all bulges at the base of grafted plants are indications of graft incompatibility. A slight swelling is normal. Roses are some of the most common grafted plants in our landscapes. Monitoring their growth is necessary to ensure sprouts arising from the graft union or below are removed.

More about graft union incompatibility may be found here: <https://extension.umd.edu/resource/graft-failure>.

JESUS OUR SAVIOR LUTHERAN OUTREACH

"God's Wisdom found in the cross of Christ"

How do you see the cross of Jesus Christ? Your response to this question makes all the difference in the world. For some the cross is a piece of jewelry. For others, it is worn or displayed as some sort of lucky charm or amulet - a sort of protection.

In the United States it is still accepted by most, however in other countries and for an increasing number in America it is offensive and can incite insults, ridicule, abuse and even death.

The apostle Paul wrote to the saints, the believers in Christ these words in his opening chapter: 'For the word of the cross is foolishness to those who are being destroyed, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God' [1st Corinthians 1:18 Lockwood translation].

For those who are perishing, aren't we all? Well no, those who have faith in Jesus will not be destroyed and death will merely be much like falling asleep for a time. For those who are perishing on account of unbelief the cross is utter foolishness.

Paul continues: 'For since in God's wisdom the world did not know God through its own wisdom, it was his good pleasure to save those who believe through the foolishness of preaching' [1st Corinthians 1:21 Lockwood translation].

It is in the power of the cross that the just wrath of Creator God was paid in FULL by Jesus. Jesus sure appeared weak and powerless as He hung, beaten, bloody, stripped naked, insulted, ridiculed, and dying. The powerful religious and political leaders thought that they had won as they did their best to crush the life out of Jesus.

In their craving for power they did not stop at anything - paying one of his disciples to betray him, telling lies, holding court against their own rules in the dark and the dead of the night, riling up crowds to scream 'crucify him, crucify him' and even having a notorious terrorist of his day released. Their blood thirsty hunger and thirst for power was never satisfied.

However, Creator God used their own wicked ways to fulfill His will - and the will of God was done as His very own Son suffered like a helpless lamb led to the slaughter. Jesus fulfilled the role that He knew full well when he left the glory of heaven and humbled himself taking on flesh and blood.

God's Sacred Word reveals that the apparent folly of God is wiser than people. Jesus' apparent weakness as He hung helpless and in agony on the cross is stronger than people. For those who are being saved, the cross that Jesus was crucified on is the power of Almighty God!

The foolishness of the cross made Jesus appear as if he didn't have a brain in that head of his. Jesus had been nailed to a piece of wood, much like a brainless scarecrow, without the apparent sense to answer the Roman Governor Pontius Pilate in a way that would have got him off the hook.

The spiritual leaders, the High Priests, the Pharisees, the Saducees, the Herodians, as well as King Herod - all saw Jesus as utterly foolish. And as the Good News of Jesus life, suffering, death and resurrection spread - the Greeks and philosophers could not understand the wisdom of God. Many of these philosophers had gathered in Corinth. There are countless so-called, scholars and 'wise guys' of today who reject Jesus and those who believe in Him.

And yet, this foolishness is wise beyond any degree that the educated can bestow in this world.

Jesus was not 'brain-dead.' Jesus and His Heavenly Father outsmarted the brainiacs of the world. Paul brings this section to a close with these words: 'For God's folly is wiser than people and God's weakness is stronger than people' [1st Corinthians 1:25 Lockwood translation].

See what a difference of perspective one has depending on how one sees or how one understands the cross of Jesus. Now, how do you see the cross of Jesus Christ?

What does it mean when they say the air quality outside today is Good or Bad? How do they measure Air Quality?

If you google "Airnow.gov" you'll find the Air Quality Index (AQI). The AQI works like a thermometer that runs from 0 to 500 degrees. But, instead of showing changes in temperature, the AQI shows changes in the amount of pollution in the air. The closer to Zero the AQI is, the cleaner the air.

The EPA has focused on six of the most common air pollutants found in our air - also known as "criteria" air pollutants. The AQI combines information from five of the six criteria pollution data from ground-based and satellite detection equipment and report real-time levels from different parts of the country.

So, what pollutants are being looked at in the AQI?

Carbon Monoxide - This gas mainly comes from fossil fuel-driven vehicles and machinery although it's formed from burning nearly anything. The entire nation meets the carbon monoxide air quality standards, mostly because of emissions standards for new motor vehicles under the Clean Air Act.

Particulate matter (PM) - is that fine dust found in the air; measuring between 5 and 100 times smaller than the width of a human hair! PMs are emitted into the air from all sorts of activity like construction sites, driving on unpaved roads and fields, or from the release of smoke and soot into the air from burning or vehicle emissions. Breathing air with high levels of PM (especially fine particles) can go deep into your lungs and may even find its way into the bloodstream.

Ozone - O3 can be good or bad depending on where it's found in the atmosphere. The ozone layer found in the upper atmosphere is "good" because it protects us from harmful radiation from space. However, ozone formed in the lower part of the atmosphere is "bad". Low-level ozone occurs through a chemical reaction where radiation from the sun splits off an oxygen atom from a nitrogen dioxide NO2 molecule. The free-floating oxygen combines with the oxygen (O2) that we breathe, forming a chain of 3 oxygen atoms. O3 or ozone is harmful if breathed - triggering asthma attacks, destroys living cells, and is harmful to the environment.

Nitrogen dioxide & Sulfur dioxide -- are formed from fossil fuel combustion. Both pollutants cause many adverse respiratory effects including increased asthma symptoms respiratory illness as well as environmental damage.

Lead - While lead is part of the six common pollutants, it's not included in the AQI due to the length of time required to determine real-time lead levels. Airborne Lead pollution has been reduced greatly since the banning of leaded fuels, though large lead-emitting industrial facilities still exist. Lead harms the neurological system causing all sorts of cognitive problems as well as heart disease and high blood pressure.

Understanding the quality of air you breathe is important to you and your family's health and development. So check out AirNow.gov and see what your outdoor air quality is like. If someone in your family suffers from some type of breathing problem, knowing your air quality can be a helpful tool in planning your day.

July (07/06-07/12) Construction Updates in the Winnebago Community

07/06-Milling and removing the middle lane from the hospital to Mathewson. I & A finishing sidewalk in this area early in the Week. MECC pouring red stamped concrete in this area. Flagging most of the week with limited access to side streets during the day.

07/08-IES to set poles on the west side of the road. Pipe crossings and electrical crossing will be placed. Beck Street will remain closed from the west until the center lane is poured and cured. Many semis use that road as a shortcut and we are concerned they would not make the corner well and wreck all the sidewalk!

07/12-Finishing an inlet on the north and preparing for a traffic switch for Monday July 12 at the circle.

3. Analyze the composition of the watercolors
4. Make your own spectrophotometer to determine the absorption spectrum of the watercolors

5. In the event of a tie for the last vacancy, all such persons tying for the last vacant spot on the ballot shall be placed upon the ballot for the Regular Election.
6. If the number of candidates for the Primary Election is equal to or less than twice the number of vacancies, then a Primary Election is not required to be held and all candidates shall automatically advance to the Regular Election. TCR #21-69

5-220 Regular Election. The Regular Election shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in October in accordance with this Article.

5-221 Term of office. The three candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the Regular Election shall be declared elected for a term of three years. In the event a tie is still received after the second runoff election, the candidates shall draw lots to determine who shall be seated on the Tribal Council; this shall be done under the supervision of the Tribal Council. The letters shall be signed by a majority of the Tribal Council members.

5-224 Election Code Amendments. There shall be no amendments to this Article 2, Title 5, 90 days prior to the Primary Tribal Election by resolution or any other method of amendment. [TCR 20-132]

5-225 Emergencies. In the event of an emergency, as defined by this Article, the Tribal Council may adjust the election process with the commitment to execute fair and transparent elections. 5-226 Unexpired Seats on Ballots

1. Pursuant to Article VI, Section 3 of the Constitution and the Bylaws of the Winnebago Tribe, when a councilmember is removed from office, dies, or resigns, the Tribal Council, by a 2/3rds vote declares the position vacant and, by a 2/3rds affirmative vote, appoints a qualified individual to fill the position until the next general election.

4. The next highest vote getter(s) following the vacant expired seats shall be declared elected for the unexpired seat for the remainder of the unexpired term.
5. In the event of a tie, a runoff election shall be held pursuant to Section 5-222.

5-227 Special Vote to Determine Qualified Individual to Fill a Vacancy

1. In the event a councilmember is removed from office, dies, or resigns, and the Tribal Council, by a 2/3rds affirmative vote, declares the position vacant, then a Special Vote shall be held within twenty-one (21) calendar days to determine a "qualified individual" to fill the vacancy until the next general election.
2. The Tribal Council shall establish the candidate list, provided that all such persons must meet the criteria for Tribal Council candidates set forth in Section 5-204(1).

4. The Tribal Council shall appoint a seven-member election board not less than ten days prior to the Special Vote. The election board shall be comprised of those officers set forth in Section 5-202(2), shall have those duties set forth in Section 5-207, and shall be compensated at the same rate provided for in Section 5-209. If practicable, the election board shall be the same persons from the most recent Regular Election unless a new election board has been appointed for the upcoming Regular Election. In such case, the election board shall be the newly appointed election board.
5. All persons on the Eligible Voter List from the most recent Regular Election shall be entitled to vote in the Special Vote.
6. A person may vote for one candidate per vacancy. Spoiled ballots shall not be counted.

8. The person with the highest number of votes shall be declared to be a "qualified individual" to fill the position until the next general election.
9. The Tribal Council shall vote to appoint the "qualified individual" to fill the vacant position until the next general election.
10. In the event there is a tie, the Tribal Council shall vote on the top vote getters to determine the "qualified individual." Once the "qualified individual" is determined, the Tribal Council shall vote to appoint that person to fill the vacant position until the next general election.
11. No person shall be seated unless there is an affirmative 2/3rds vote of the Tribal Council to appoint that person to fill the vacant seat.
12. Unless otherwise stated in this Section 5-227, the other provisions of Title 5, Article 2 shall apply.

On 12-30-19, during the Winnebago Mid-monthly Tribal Council meeting, a motion was passed to publish all meth related offenses occurring on the Winnebago reservation, in the Winnebago Indian News.

The following individual(s) has been arrested for a meth offense...

WARHORSE UPDATE

WARHORSE™

With the closure of the Nebraska Legislative session, the process of opening WarHorse casinos around the state took a notable step forward. The state legislature passed LB 561, a bill that established the Nebraska Racing and Gaming Commission as a state entity and officially legalized sports wagering at the future casinos.

Though the bill moved the process forward, there are several milestones from a state government perspective that need to be met before Nebraska will see any casinos.

Most significantly, the new Racing and Gaming Commission has submitted rules and regulations for the casinos to the governor to review and approve. This document needs the approval of the governor before any casino can be built in the state. The regulations will establish a method for casinos to apply for a gaming license with the state – something that will be mandatory to open a casino. It will also provide a method for casino employees to be licensed with the state, which will be mandatory to work in the casinos. In short, the rules and regulations need to be signed for any casino to hire staff and open.

Though the opening of the casinos is dependent on approved rules and regulations, it is not preventing WarHorse from moving forward with the development of the properties. The architectural designs of the properties' exteriors are essentially complete, and the interior elements are wrapping up for both Omaha and Lincoln.

The parking at WarHorse Omaha was able to be reconfigured without the need for a parking garage. With no longer needing a multilevel parking garage, the construction costs for Omaha were reduced by $20 million. Additionally, the City of Omaha has approved $17 million in tax increment financing (TIF) to assist in the construction to the infrastructure in the area, including the road, sewage and so on – work that would have been paid for outright during the construction.

WarHorse Lincoln has seen similar success with the local city government. The development process has not faced opposition to date. The City of Lincoln was also the first city in the state to approve zoning for casino gaming, and did so with a unanimous vote of approval.

Both the Lincoln and Omaha facilities will break ground later this summer, but WarHorse Lincoln will have phased opening with a modest offering of slot machines.

“Once licenses are issued for the facilities, we plan to open a pilot operation in Lincoln of roughly 300 slot machines,” said Brian Chamberlain, WarHorse Gaming LLC executive director. “This will allow us to start building a revenue stream, even while construction is underway.”

WarHorse South Sioux is not as far along in the process as the other properties. The land for the South Sioux City location was purchased in late June. The site will be developed into a full oval racetrack, rather than the current candy cane shape of Atokad. Plans also include the eventual development of a hotel and event center to be added onto the casino structure.

The slower development of the South Sioux property has a strategic purpose as well.

“Omaha, Lincoln and their suburbs represent roughly 56 percent of the population of Nebraska. As significantly larger markets, it’s important to move these properties along as rapidly as possible to start driving revenue as soon as we can,” said Brian Chamberlain, WarHorse LLC executive director. “Ideally, we will be able to use revenue from Omaha and Lincoln to self-fund the development of South Sioux. Doing so would mean we’re able to claim the profits from the property immediately, instead of paying back loans.”

The current timelines show Lincoln opening preliminarily in early 2022, with a grand opening later that year. Omaha’s opening is planned for mid-2023, with South Sioux City being the last of the casinos to open.
